

Africa Freedom Mission

Dear Friends and Family,

This summer I have been given the opportunity to serve on a 8-week mission trip to 2 different countries. I will be working with a team of college students and young adults to minister with Ghana Family Churches in Accra, Ghana and Africa Freedom Mission in Zambia.

Zambia and Ghana are both very diverse countries with over 100 and 70 different ethnic groups respectively. These countries have been described as melting pots of tribes. While the primary religion is Christianity, the church has been described as a mile wide and an inch deep. There are many who believe that they can attain salvation by good works and don't understand the gift of grace that we have through Jesus!

During our first 3 weeks in Ghana, we will be working with a few local churches to host outreaches in the slums of Accra. The slums in Accra are highly populated communities marked by extreme poverty. Our teams will be working with churches that minister to victims of sex trafficking and drug abuse as well as vulnerable children and families.

During our last 5 weeks in Zambia, our team will be moving around quite a bit. We will start off in the Capital, Lusaka working with various churches and ministries serving street kids, community schools and some of the poorer compounds throughout the city. From there, we will be heading to east to work in some of the communities surrounding AFM's rural ministry center in Katoba, Zambia.

Regardless of our location, our heart's desire is to be a vessel for the love of Jesus to be poured out as we walk hand and hand with our Christian brothers and sisters there in these communities!

Would you consider partnering with me in this work? FHI requires that each team member raise $7,500 to cover the cost of airfare, food, lodging, and other trip expenses. I need a team of financial and prayer supporters to help make this trip a reality. Would you prayerfully consider partnering with me?
