

Subject Line: You have 31 days left...

Preview Text: There will be no tomorrow, and that's the best news you'll get all day.

---

I get asked all the time, “Max, how do I get ripped?”, “Max, how do I get rich?”, “Max, how do I get successful?”—etc., etc.

The answer is something you already know....

You have to get rich or die f*ing trying, brother.

If I put a gun to your family and said, “{Customer Name}, you’ve got 31 days to come up with $10k a month or they die,”

You would come up with the $10k.

So, what’s the difference now?

It’s only bad when you’re flipping burgers, sitting through another boring lecture, or laying down another plank at the job site.

Then you get home to the weed, booze, girlfriend, junk food, and video games—and when it’s not so entirely miserable?

“Tomorrow won’t hurt...”

Eventually, brother, there will be no tomorrow.

Eventually, your family and friends will wonder, “*Why the f** is {Customer Name} not rich yet, like he said he would be his whole life?*”*

You’re gonna look your mother in the face and say, “Mom, I trie-”

Actually, no—scratch that—you didn’t even try.

“Mom, I chose comfort instead of discipline to get rich, and because of that, you’re doomed to a slave 9-5 because I didn’t act with urgency.”

I don’t want you to have that conversation, bro.

I want all of my followers successful.

I challenge you to act like you have 31 days left and GET RICH like your life depends on it.

But I don’t expect you to do it alone.

I'm willing to teach you a skill that will ensure that convo with your mother never happens.

(fyi this won't be open forever)

Act as if there is no tomorrow.

Hurry up—day 1 of 31 already started.
