

"Hey, Hugh Player,

Your educational content on Instagram is great, especially one of the latest videos, "Four Moves For Massive Arms," I believe it's a good way to instill trust in your experience.

I've watched your "Online Training" document, and I believe you can modify it slightly to make it massively more compelling.

By changing the tone to be more motivational, inspiring, and encouraging, and adopting a more professional, clear, and informative voice, you can increase demand for your online services.

I understand your time is precious, and marketing might not be your priority at the moment, but if it is, I will do a sample of work for free.

If you want to discuss your future and improvements, would you be interested in scheduling a call?

Best regards,

[Arman]
