

Mun and muse are both of age, but since I won't participate in smut. I will however write other forms of mature content, but again, nothing too graphic. Anything that should be tagged WILL be

You can call me Fauna, she, her pronouns. Though honestly, I don't care what you refer to me as. I'M CHILL and won't get all offended

This blog isn't spoiler free for the game!

I currently have two jobs. One always has crazy hours so I won't always be here. Please be patient with me. I do my best to remember how I owe replies to etc.

I'm a mutuals only rper. I won't go into detail about what that means, since I believe most of us know what it is. However if you're new to tumblr you're more than welcome to send me an ask and I'll clarify. I should probably add that if we're mutuals, I assume you want to write with me. I've decided to be a bit more strict with this but if you have no real desire to interact... don't follow.

I'm cool with any writing length, though I prefer multipara - novella. You're welcome to turn a meme into a thread. I LOVEEEEEEE those sorts of interactions.

I have zero tolerance for bullying. If I see you post/reblog callouts or just act like a nasty person, I will unfollow. I'll also unfollow if you post a lot of things unrelated to your muse. --like, real world political issues etc

I'm a bit selective when it comes to Ocs and multimuses. As long as I can see our muse's interacting, I'll likely follow. ----but if say, your multi is filled with muses I know nothing about ---I likely will pass.....

I'm pretty open to all sorts of ships. Though when it comes to romance and stuff I'd rather we write and see where things go -- I don't do the whole 'instant' ship thing.... Hope you understand darlins.

And I think that's all for now!
