

Skylar's Science

Day 1:

Here is a cool science lesson that links with what you've learned about how atoms bond, and explains snow. Click 'think' on the right for some questions. If you're interested in more, the 'Dig Deeper' section links to a lot of additional information.

Day 2:

This is a great lesson on extinction. It isn't just for dinosaurs. Like yesterday, do the questions, and 'dig deeper' if you choose.

Day 3:

I can't remember if you read Stranger In A Strange Land. If not, you should. It's sci-fi by Robert Heinlein, and one cool thing about it is that he described a special type of bed -- which was later actually created as the water bed. Sometimes, science fiction does that -- invents something that gets invented later in real life. This video is about that.

Day 4:

This isn't really science, just a thinking lesson. Try to figure it out yourself before you listen to the end!

You can also explore any other lessons here or here.
