Abstract

This template is a guide of writing a paper that will be published in the JISTI (Jurnal Ilmu Komputer, Sistem Informasi, dan Teknologi Informasi). This template is created using Microsoft Word, so we only accept paper that matches with this template and uses Microsoft Word. We will publish papers covering the fields of computer science and information systems from all aspects; theory, practical and application. Paper must pass proofreading, i.e. there is no error on writing or grammar. We will also check for plagiarism using Turnitin, only papers with plagiarism levels of less than 20% and a maximum of 4% from each source will be published. The paper received will be further formatted by the JISTI editors. Abstracts must include problems, proposed methods, and research results. In the abstract does not contain quotations or references. Writing paper is more recommended be written in English. Abstract and keyword should be written in two languages (English and Indonesian) for the article written in the Indonesian language. Maximum keywords consist of 5 words.

Keywords: Article; Cakrawala Intelektual Dinamika; Open Journal; Template

1 Introduction

In general, the paper is written using Times New Roman font and single line space, margin for left, top, and bottom are 2.5 cm, while the right margin is 2 cm. Size of text is 11 pt, except the title is 14 pt, the header and footer are 10 pt. The title, author, and sub are written in bold.

Style settings follow these rules:

- ☐ Title style for Title
- ☐ Subtitle style for author and abstract
- ☐ No Spacing style for author's address, author's email, image and table
- ☐ Caption style for image caption and table caption
- ☐ Heading 1 for chapters

- ☐ Heading 2 is for sub-chapters, sub-headings can use Heading 3 and so on
- ☐ Normal for normal paragraphs
- ☐ Bibliography style for reference list

The main section consists of an introduction, methodology, experiment result, discussion, conclusions, and future work. The author can use other structures to adjust the topics of paper.

2 Heading and Section

Use heading style menus for title and section. Title Style for title, Heading 1 for section, Heading 2 for subsection, etc.

3 Caption

To provide figure and table captions can add through the References menu in Microsoft Word. The figure caption is placed below the image. The table caption is placed above the table. The figures, tables, and descriptions are set to centralized alignment. Typeset tables and captions are in 10 pt Times roman with single line spacing. Each figure and table must be given a description.

Table 1. Example of table caption

Model	Akurasi	AUC
Naïve Bayes	88,51%	0,838
ROS, AdaBoost, dan Naïve Bayes	78,30%	0,856

RUS, AdaBoost, dan Naïve Bayes 74,33% 0,804

For wide images/tables, they can be placed in a combined (merged) column as in Figure 1. For small images/tables, they can be placed as in Figure 2 or Table 1. The text/information in them must be clear and easy to read. Text/captions in images/tables must be proportional to the size of the article content (11pt), not too big or too small.

4 Conclusion

Conclusions are made based on the results of research which is the answer to the research question. This template was created to standardize the writing of papers in the JISTI (Jurnal Ilmu Komputer, Sistem Informasi, dan Teknologi Informasi).

5 Future Work

Future work is optional, so it may be allowed or not to written. Future work is a proposal or plan for further research on topics that have been studied.

References

References are written using the APA (American Psychological Association) format, justify alignment, the first row is without indentation, while the second row and the rest are using 1cm indentation. References must be in the form of scientific papers that have been reviewed and published. If it is in the form of a book, at least consists of the author, year, title, city, and publisher. If in the form of a journal, at least consists of the author, year, title, name of the journal, and page. If it is in the form of a proceeding, at least consists of the author, year, title, name of publication, page, city, and publisher. Belows are some examples of references writing. References are written in 10 pt

Times New Roman with single line space. See the tutorial in next page.

Referensi dibuat otomatis menggunakan format APA Sixth/Fifth dari menu references di Ms Word, atau menggunakan software bantu seperti:

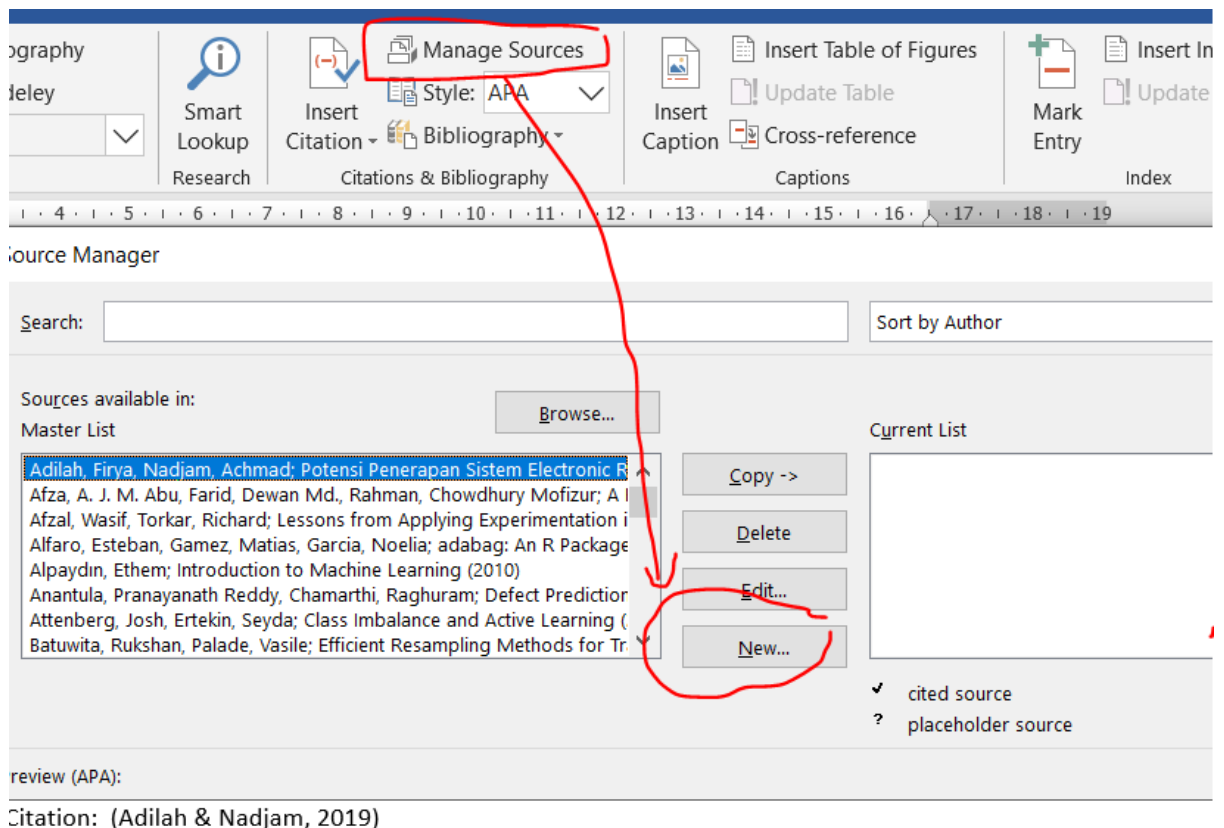

- 1) Mendeley (<https://www.mendeley.com/>)
- 2) Zotero (<https://www.zotero.org/>)
- 3) EndNote (<https://endnote.com/>)
- 4) Others references manager

Cari tutorialnya di Youtube, atau gunakan mesin pencari seperti Google, Bing, dll.

Referensi harus dibuat otomatis dari menu References:

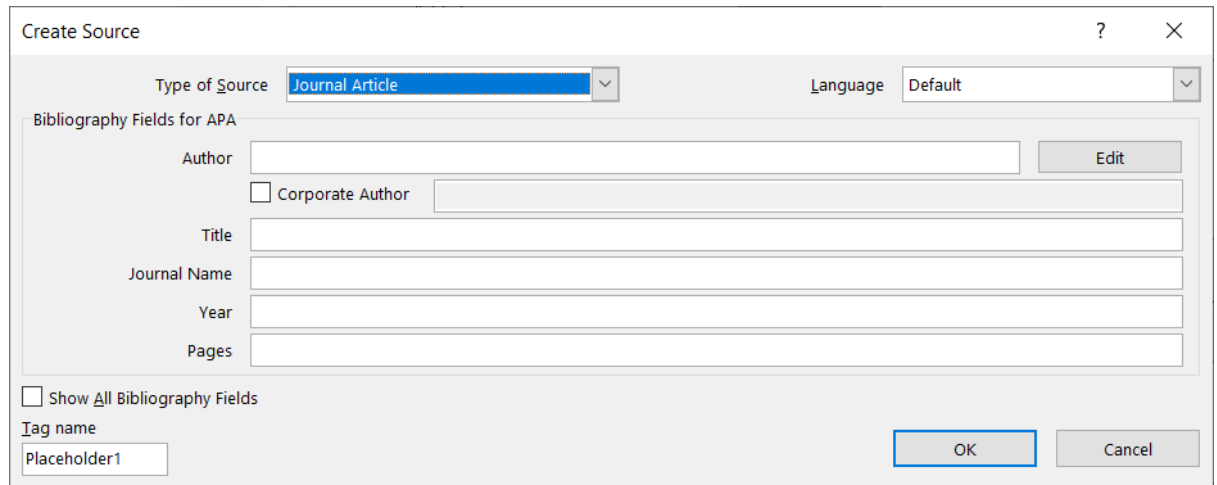

Klik Manage Sources, kemudian klik New untuk menambahkan sumber referensi.

Pilih jenis sumber referensi (Type of Source), isi semua field.

Sumber referensi (Type of Source) hanya boleh dari jurnal/prosiding maksimal 5 tahun terakhir (2016-2020), atau dari buku maksimal 10 tahun terakhir (2011-2020).
