

Caravan Puff has gone by a handful of names in the past. Vee, Sylvia, Frisk, and Madeline are all Caravan Puff (None of these are her deadname). I'm going to try my best in providing as much evidence and context regarding her actions and capability of repeating said actions.

First relevant thing to note is Caravan had been using a dating app called Meetme to meet people, this is how I met her. She pressured someone she met into sex about 5 months before I met her. This person found out about what Caravan did recently and reached out to me.

no worries. I need to unfollow her, I was wanting to try to ask her what happened but realized that was stupid. I met her when she went by Vee off of meetme & I was swooned. she had made it seem like she had every intention of forming a relationship with me (we were both legal adults so it's not serious like what's happening now) but basically.. I don't wanna say she "peer pressured" me into sex buuuut that's basically what happened. I'm a shy, introverted trans guy & at that time in my life I was fresh out of residential treatment for mental illness (we had met for the first time when i was still in it) and the second time we met up that's when we had had sex despite the fact that I wasn't 100% on board (she didnt mental illness (we had met for the first time when i was still in it) and the second time we met up that's when we had had sex despite the fact that I wasn't 100% on board (she didnt know this, again i just feel like i was in a vulnerable place & didnt know how to say no because i really liked her) and after that she completely ghosted me and broke my heart. it really screwed up the progress i had made w my mental health but i guess it's more on my end for getting in or trying to get in a relationship right out of treatment.

Caravan implied that actions like this were habitual

(Our conversation immediately after I found out she was cheating)

Shape 05/25/2019

Vee..?

We need to talk.

<(●~●)> | (BG) Caravan Puff- 05/25/2019

I know exactly what you're going to say

And i'm sorry

I don't know why I do it

I don't know why I did it

It's nothing you've done, it's a shitty, unforgivable habit that I can't get rid of

It's gotten alot better, and I promised myself after this, I wouldn't do it anymore

But that's no excuse to for me to do it

Shape 05/25/2019

I'm sorry but I don't think I'll ever be able to forgive you. I don't think you realize how scary being in a relationship again was for me, but I tried my hardest to trust you and stay vulnerable to you because I thought we had something special. So to find this out hurts a shit ton, I feel like a fool. It was nice while it lasted at least, really nice. You're an amazing person outside of this, but I can't trust you now.

<(●~●)> | (BG) Caravan Puff- 05/25/2019

I understand.

You have every right to be upset, hurt, and crushed about this. This is a problem I should have brought up a long, long time ago, but never did. I don't think I can ever forgive myself about this, either, because I had absolutely no reason to do the thing I just did.

I know you'll never forgive me, but your sake, and for my own, I'm going to try to fix this

This is something that should never happen again

The next thing I'd like to touch on is the relationship I had with her. There's a series of receipts of a conversation I had with a friend regarding her that touches on everything about our relationship in a relatively chronological manner.

Acute Shape Yesterday at 3:04 PM

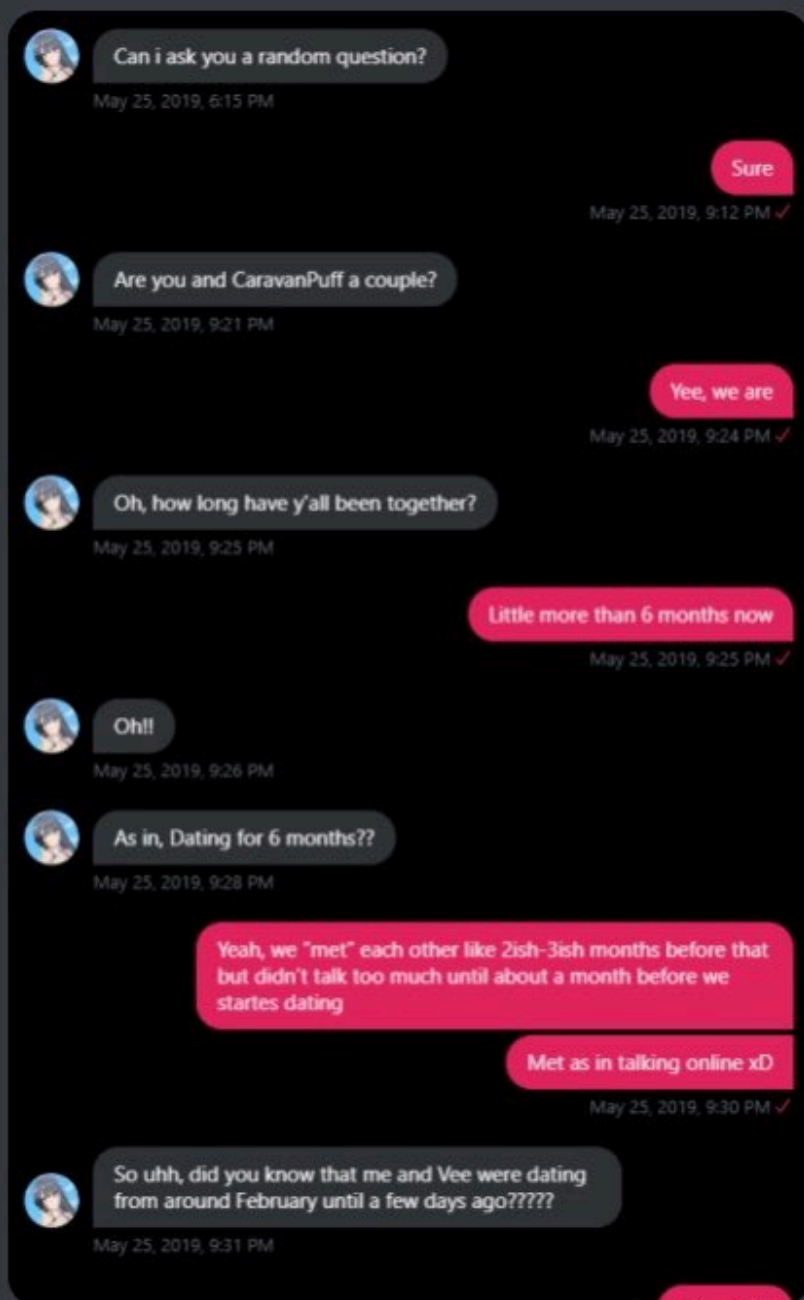

Alrighty

I guess I'll start with my feelings towards here during our relationship

At the start I was really really into her, as most relationships are. We met on a dating app and we're learning a bunch about each other and it was fun. Our first time meeting was magical, she came to my local skatepark and she looked like an actual angel from far away. Then we went downtown and found a place to sit and kinda cuddle and watch videos and it was a lot of fun. I felt good about things at that time

Then she brought me to my first smash tournament (she'd been going a lot before then) and I only watched that time, we kept going to them more and more tho and she convinced me to get a twitter where I met some of her friends. Still felt pretty good and I had a new hobby

Then there was this

Uh.

Sure

May 25, 2019, 9:12 PM ✓

Are you and CaravanPuff a couple?

May 25, 2019, 9:21 PM

Yee, we are

May 25, 2019, 9:24 PM ✓

Oh, how long have y'all been together?

May 25, 2019, 9:25 PM

Little more than 6 months now

Oh!!

May 25, 2019, 9:26 PM

As in, Dating for 6 months??

May 25, 2019, 9:28 PM

Yeah, we "met" each other like 2ish-3ish months before that but didn't talk too much until about a month before we startes dating

Met as in talking online xD

May 25, 2019, 9:30 PM ✓

So uhh, did you know that me and Vee were dating from around February until a few days ago?????

May 25, 2019, 9:31 PM

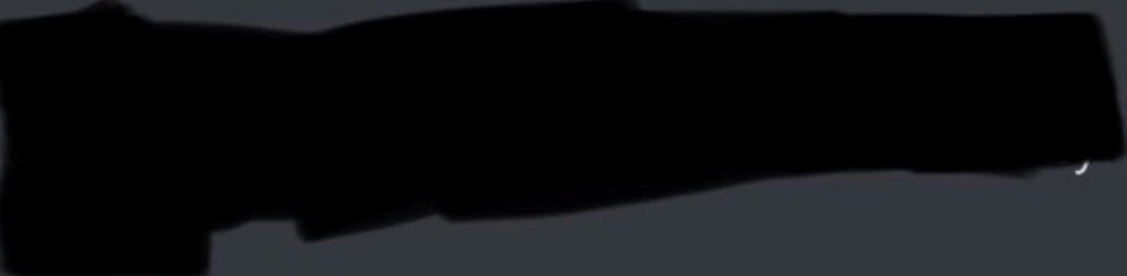

Uhh, ???

I forgave her against my better judgement
Lemme see if I can find the old messages actually

 Yesterday at 3:14 PM

So.. forgiveness is sometimes ok..

There are certain sort of.. circumstances?
That are understandable. But no, cheating isn't something that's acceptable.

But, as I mentioned, there's circumstances and context.

Acute Shape Yesterday at 3:18 PM

Yeahhh, it was against my better judgement, I was extremely vulnerable and had almost no one else to do the things we did together. This was a very lonely time in my life, I had finished high school with literally no friends because I shut myself off from everyone

Well firstly I wish he'd just tell me this instead of us having to do this little weird back-and-forth thing with you, but it's fine

The reason I started another relationship is because I was too insecure and unconfident about my feelings and how I saw myself. While I'm working on it now, back then, I was at an absolute breaking point about self-care. I hated myself. I still do.

The only thing that made me get by, were people that would tell me the opposite. Telling me that I'm a loving, wonderful individual. It was enough to make me fall into a daze and grow emotions for a person.

In situations like that, it's a fight or flight response with myself

And once I realise that the actions were completely unjust and unwarranted, it's too fucking late

<(◉‿◉)> (Caravan Puff) Today at 12:41 PM

So now, because of my own damn lack of self-

And once I realise that the actions were completely unjust and unwarranted, it's too fucking late

<(◑◒◑)> (Caravan Puff) Today at 12:41 PM

So now, because of my own damn lack of self-confidence, I became stuck in two relationships in which I only wanted to be in one, and that lingering feeling of fucking up sticks with me and the inevitable feeling of the truth getting revealed made me hate myself even more, and the cycle could have absolutely continued that way

But during this whole fiasco, this is when I started to learn about self-love

I was numb to the concept, but it made me realise what I actually doing to myself and the people around me

And it's a journey that I'm continuing to this day. I don't know how or where it'll go, but I know that the end of it awaits a more confident, smart, and passionate Vee for myself and others

And, that, is why I don't think I can do what I just did ever again.

Im sorry I rambled, but hopefully that should

This was her response to a friend regarding what she did

I was he/him back then also

And it convinced me unfortunately

 Yesterday at 3:20 PM

She's a bitch.

Acute Shape Yesterday at 3:20 PM

I thought it was just something we needed to work on so we thought polyamory was the solution

And we were okay from there, even tho I was even more insecure at that point, I was always afraid she'd connect with someone else and leave or replace me. which she broke up with me for at certain point

 Yesterday at 3:21 PM

She took advantage of you. And she doesn't deserve a drip of sympathy, Reina.

Acute Shape Yesterday at 3:22 PM

Last summer I traveled to wisconsin and north carolina and it was a hard time for me mentally and I kinda broke down and she broke up with me for it

I agree in hindsight

This was around when the Caravan server was up and running also, and she was making new friends...

Yesterday at 3:23 PM

She broke up with you at a vulnerable time.. cheated on you.. and she's just.. an egotistical little rat.

Acute Shape Yesterday at 3:23 PM

She was also fresh off of her 20th bday at this time

It gets worse

I was in a similar position to now, where I was constantly trying to bargain and convince her to take me back but there was no luck

There's two girls she met

Lia, who went by Mask and Alexa

Lia was 16 at the time and Alexa was 17

 Yesterday at 3:25 PM

Honey not to stop you, but do you mind if I kick her from my.. uh.. is this going where I think it is?

Acute Shape Yesterday at 3:25 PM

I was decent friends with Alexa at the time, we talked a ton.

Acute Shape Yesterday at 3:26 PM

Alexa said she had a surprise for me on a certain date which ended up being her bday. Before that time came I ended up confiding in Alexa about how I felt about Caravan and she dropped the surprise early. Caravan was dating her and kept it a secret from me and everyone else since she was underage.

Alexa even told me Caravan was planning on dating Lia too, who again was 16.

Alexa knew about Caravan and I and her surprise was that she was going to date me too and we could be poly, which my heartbroken insecure self thought was a good idea.

Also Caravan started dating Alexa 5 or 6 days after breaking up with me.

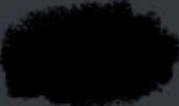

Which I only knew about cause Alexa told me how long they were secretly together.

 Yesterday at 3:29 PM

Alexa was 18 by the time you were with her, right?

Acute Shape Yesterday at 3:30 PM

We never dated

 Yesterday at 3:30 PM

Ok.

Acute Shape Yesterday at 3:30 PM

That was Alexa's plan but then after she told me that I told her about how she cheated on me and then Alexa was put off by the idea of being with her or being poly

I was really sick of things and was ready to drop out of Madeline's life for good

Right when I told her everything I knew she then wanted me back

And yeah, I made the brainless stupid choice of returning

This is the admission from Alexa regarding the relationship and brings up Caravan's interest in Lia, another minor.

Alexa 09/24/2019

This is the hardest Enter press I've ever done.

But okay

It's about the surprise.

Sylvia and I have technically been dating since August 23rd.

It was supposed to be a secret until I turned 18.

But here's the thing, she was also interested in Mask.

Like she was fairly interested in Mask until I reminded her that she isn't nearly 18.

The surprise was how I handled the knowledge that you and Sylvia still fuck. My idea was "Oh well if that's the case then I'll be Shape's girlfriend too!"

Personally, it still ways on my heart but I know two things.

1. If I don't respect her polygamic tendencies, I lose her. This happened to one of my friends where she left her husband because he didn't do that thing.

2. I'm basically doing the exact same thing with Ana. I can't risk being a massive hypocrite like that.

But yeah the mask part is interesting to me

Because it feels.... really really suspect you know?

Acute Shape 09/24/2019

How old is mask?

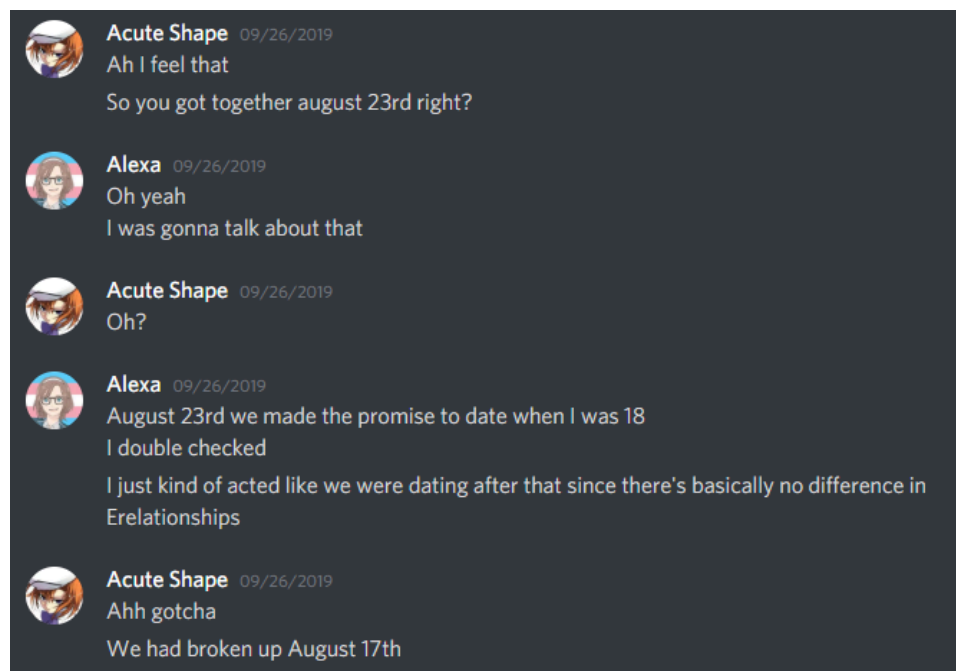

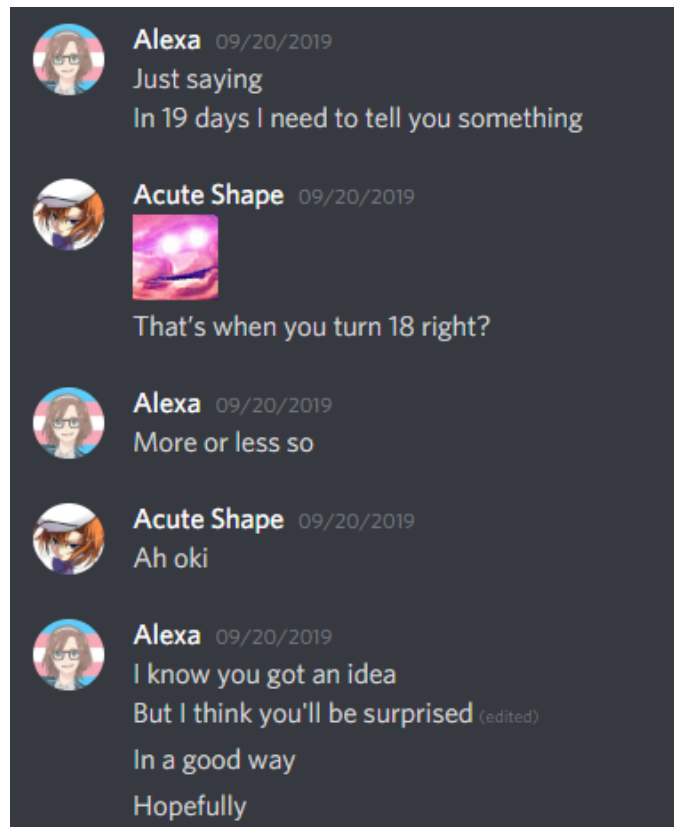

Alexa 09/24/2019

She was 16 at the time

Probably still 16

(Some extra context regarding their relationship)

Update and Clarifications

Good evening. It's been about a week since I've taken the step to log off of Twitter to better myself of past mistakes. I haven't been fully aware of everything that's been said about me since I left, but I've wanted to talk about a few more things before I think I permanently step away from this account and Smash.

I should also mention that when posting this, I will still have not logged onto Twitter and seen any messages given from there. As mentioned in my previous post, if you really want to reach me, you can do so via Discord. My name on there is: <(●_●)> | (BG) Caravan Puff~#2533

Firstly, since this incident started, I've found a professional therapist to help me. We're meeting weekly, and we're talking about the things I've done that were wrong, how I've felt from then and now, and what I can do to prevent mistakes like that from ever happening again. It's a slow process, yes, but in all honesty I'm just glad to have found support about this so quickly.

As I'm growing and looking back at the situation, I want to also clarify some things that I think people are wrongly assuming I did. I don't blame anyone for trying to come to these conclusions, but I still think it's important to get this stuff out there.

The underage thing. This is incredibly hard for me to talk about, because it's something I regret so much that it's hard for me to even think about the events that went down. This is going off my memory, as I'm not strong or capable enough yet to look at every single message of the past to truly confirm these things. Even still, I'm 99.9% positive what I'm about to say is true:

The relationship was not sexual, it was a status. I was not going out of my way to try and sexually take advantage of this person, we never shared anything of that regard, or even things like roleplaying. With that said, Even back then, I knew briefly after the relationship started, it was a terrible idea, and I ended it as quickly as I could. The relationship only lasted a few months, and would have lasted even shorter had I gotten a bigger courage to say "No". I'm not saying this to look like a victim, I'm saying this because even when I fucked up, I was not condoning any of those actions.

This brings me to some people calling me a hypocrite for calling out Ally when he returned. Firstly: His situation was much worse, considering it was revolved around manipulation and abuse, and secondly: I spoke so strongly about it was because I had realized how horrible something like that is, and that it personally spoke to me because a man in his thirties didn't realize how much he was fucking up, and how he was fairly quickly given an extra chance because of his skill. He has much more power than I ever will, and it seemed like he was taking advantage of it to return to a community he was not yet ready to come back to.

The two things I completely regret in the relationship were the cheating, and the underage situation. Everything else that's been brought up about it, however, I feel like is being completely skewed. I could go over every single situation that's been posted about me, but in the end I would just keep saying the same thing:

They were a problem either because they were A) Miscommunicated, or B) An Accident.

I had absolutely no intent to harm or psychologically break her, especially going forward from those two big mistakes. The creation of our rules and boundaries was to initially show that I wanted to move forward from what I had done and try to become a better person, partner, and friend to her. I thought it was sound, because not only was I forgiven several times for what I had done by her, but she was also the one who kept returning and asking to get back together. I would have not blamed her if she never came back, and I did absolutely nothing to help influence her return until she started talking to me again after each breakup.

This is not meant to jab at her, or say she's a bad person. This is meant to help visualize the complications of the relationship going forward. I was a paranoid frantic who wanted to explore but had fears about how'd she react, and she had underlining trust issues from my two mistakes. I know I made her unhappy in several future instances, but unlike the two mistakes, there was never a small worry of what I was doing was wrong. It would be in our rules/barriers, I would communicate to her if it happened (sometimes right after, but that was allowed in our rules), and it wouldn't thread towards any of my past wrongdoings. I should also mention that she was also willing to explore, and the creation of the rules was not just me just wanting to broaden the relationship. Before the relationship ended, I offered to close off the relationship and have it be monogamous again, and she approved-- We tried our best to keep communication tight, but no matter what I did, I noticed her unhappiness continue to rest over her shoulder.

To simply put: we were both afraid of eachother, and it had to take alot of courage and time in me to finally break things off, because it would just keep getting worse had it continued.

To conclude this very long post, I want to clarify that I don't think I'm ever going to come back to Smash, at the very least not under Caravan. If I were to ever return, it would probably be under a new tag (that I would link to from here so nobody is confused), but that wouldn't be until a long, long time from now. Even with the misunderstandings, there's still alot I want to work on before I come back (If that even happens). I want to truly grow, and feel like I can confidently put my mistakes behind me while learning their lessons.

I greatly apologize to everyone for my past actions. I still look up to so many people in this community, and I'll be continuing to follow in those people's steps and learn how to better myself for my own and everyone else's sake.
