Colour Guide (for who's talking):

TC, Sera, VampireKitty, Rylae, TideKeeper, Loki, KampferWolf, CAThulu

Welcome to May (already)! So yet another unique milestone with the Paw-Post today; a "Person" highlight. Yep, our special guest this week is WholsAdelaide (or just Adelaide for short), who is... well, herself! You may remember seeing her foot-pics linked not too long ago, and more recently that amazing furry take on them by Evil-Sprite. I wasn't sure if she would be interested in doing a highlight or not for us given furry stuff can be... overwhelming to some folks, BUT, she was happy to! So, it made for a very fun and interesting interview, and I hope you all enjoy it. ^_^ Goes without saying, the pictures (save for the Evil-Sprite one) are human - so for those of ya that don't like human feet, you are forewarned. :P

TC's Random Music Pick

Michael Jackson - "Don't stop till you get enough" - 1979

Genre: Disco/pop

Wooo! This is a neat sorta transitional song in a way - by the end of the 70s, Disco was nearly at the end of it's days, and Michael Jackson was just getting started on his solo career. He found a way to take the funky beats and melodies that Disco had used, and start shifting them towards his unique brand of pop that would SO be the famous sounds of the 1980s. This still had a more Discoesque flair to it, but you can hear the beginnings of his other stuff easily enough. Very funky. :)

Sera's Random Music Pick

The Sims - "Neighbourhood 5" - 2000

Oh The Sims, a wonderful later classic of a game. Lots of fun was had when this first came out. I am not entirely sure this is the real name of the track, but this was really all I could find for a name. Either way, i consider this to be my favorite of the neighbourhood tracks. Enjoy the gaming nostalgia!

CAThulu's Random Music Pick

Crowded House -- "Don't Dream It's Over" -- 1986

I gained my love for Crowded House from my dad. I have a lot of good memories listening to this in the summer up north at the cottage when I was a kid. This Australian band is probably one of the best things to come out of the 80's.

Open for Sales/Commissions

NOTE: Just because an artist is not marked with "paw-friendly" doesn't mean they don't draw paws - just that I'm not sure if it's a theme they do a lot. I try to use that indicator when the artist is known to draw paws a lot, or has confirmed they don't mind the subject.

Most Pawesome Picture

by ZP92

(C2: nsfw-ish -- f/m/f -- feline; cheetah, raccoon, [lucky] human -- foot-tease)

<http://www.deviantart.com/art/Divas-in-a-Shoe-Store-678777298>

<http://www.furaffinity.net/view/23421630/>

You know... I thought picking the Most Pawesome this week was gonna be tricky again.... and then ZP92 came out with THIS pic. Hunnfh... how freaken lucky is that human? Right?! Good gods. Not just one incredibly sexy sole, but two. And I love how they're different too. Like imagine that moment where you suddenly got to sample both and take in the different textures, different heat, the extreme unique details at point-blank, and possibly even different scents. I dunno why but I especially love that raccoon's feet. Arg... so, so nice. Honestly, I would be pretty much doing exactly what that lucky guy is. With possibly an added nose-bleed. :P I think one of the core reasons ZP92's stuff is always SO fun is that (as he explained in his artist highlight some time back) he thinks up scenarios that he'd LOVE to be in as someone with a foot fetish, and..... yeah... this picture very much nails that!

Personal Summary:

I suck at these. I'm awful at telling people about myself. So basically, I'm a 22 year old Aussie who does not live in Australia actually. I'm quite musical as I play piano, violin, the ukulele, and I can kind of sing as well. I love being outside. My favourite animals are cats and rabbits (go figure). As a person, I'm very kind.. usually too kind as people tend to walk all over me, but that's fine because I'd rather be too kind than someone who is mean (mean people suck). I've discovered that kind people are the least noticed. I'm actually pretty shy and awkward, so I don't talk much at all, and when I do, it usually involves me giggling nervously, moving my arms around like an idiot and not making eye contact at all. It sounds adorable but trust me, mates, it's not. Besides being overly kind and super duper awkward, I have a potty mouth and a short temper, and horrible road rage. Also, I'm so into rock, heavy metal, screamo, etc. which usually shocks the crap out of people to learn this about me. Currently, I'm working my way to becoming a paramedic! I work with people who have special needs and I really enjoy it. My area has 15 residents so it's super busy. Not too sure what else to say about myself. I probably sound super lame but honestly, I think I'm a pretty cool gal.. and a great listener! I probably spewed complete nonsense but it's not everyday that someone wants to know so much about me! Thanks for the intertest, it's really lovely! 😊

Comment Preferences:

As for comments, I like nice playful ones and dislike criticism and really creepy ones!

Some Q&A:

(TC) Welcome to Paw-Post Ms. Adelaide! Thank you very much for being willing to take us up on this unusual highlight offer. Were you surprised to see folks from the furry community having noticed and seen your work?

(Adelaide) It's my pleasure! Thank you for having me on here! (: I was, actually! I think it's super cool though!

(TC) Ha... better question - did you know about the furry community prior? XD

(Adelaide) I did, actually! I think that the furry community is really cool and unique. I actually know someone IRL who is part of the furry community!

(TC) Oh that's cool! Glad it wasn't too much of a shock then, heh. You're the first person to be featured for directly foot modelling on here. How did you ever get started with modelling your feet anyway? Like what prompted the decision to try it?

(Adelaide) I have been told before that my feet were nice, and I'd also been on here quite awhile ago and stumbled across foot modelling and thought it was pretty cool so was inspired to try it out! I didn't expect that so many people would like me feet so much!

(TC) Well it's not surprising; they are very beautiful feet - even by my super-picky standards with real life humans, yours are top notch. Now, are you into feet at all - hence you knew you had nice ones, or how did you come to find this out?

(Adelaide) Thank you so much, I really appreciate that! (: I'm happy mine fit your standards (; Ummm, not overly. I think feet can be really pretty and I can appreciate that part of the human body, but that's it. I've always liked my feet, they're small and I like my arches.

(TC) So it's an aesthetic appreciation of feet, at least, on your part. Hmm... not sure you can answer this or not, but can you elaborate a bit on how you're into the aesthetics of feet? What do you like about them?

(Adelaide) I'll answer this anyway! I like small feet, with cute toes and high arches. Very soft and smooth looking, etc. I really like nude nail polish and French manicures, or none at all. A tattoo on a girls foot is pretty sweet too.

(TC) So do you find your own feet aesthetically attractive or is it mostly others? And what's your preferred foot - male, female..... shaped like yours or different?

(Adelaide) I do find my feet attractive, kind of. Haha. (: I would prefer female feet, shaped more like mine.

(TC) *laughs* Amen to that - given that (at least by my standards) only about 5% of females have feet as nice as yours, it would be nice to see more. Then again though, the rarity of such nice ones does make them stand out more. Heh, now we have gotta talk about that awesome bunny mask. I LOVE that thing - it gives your pictures such an amazing original flare. Where did you get the idea to wear that when doing your pictures?

(Adelaide) Thank you!! (: I wanted to be anonymous, and originally, I was planning on always having my head cropped out.. but that would have been annoying, then I remembered I had masks and thought that was a cool and unique idea! I haven't seen anyone wearing a mask yet so maybe I'm the first? Probably not, but still! (:

(TC) You're the first I've seen taking that approach. :) That mask was a hit when I first linked to one of your pictures in the Paw-Post a couple months back. Sorta... makes that "furry" connection for a few of us, I think. And it definitely inspired Evil-Sprite to do up that amazing picture of you as an actual nightmare-bunny fursona. What did you think when you saw the result of that?

(Adelaide) I'm super happy it was! Again, totally was not expecting it to be! I was so excited when I first saw it, and super flattered! Evil-Sprite did an AMAZING job!! I love it so much.

(TC) Awww, that is awesome. :) Do you think you might have plans to get some more furry art that carries on that character's theme?

(Adelaide) I'd really love to, actually! I think it's a super awesome idea!

(TC) Cool! Well I know for sure lots of folks would love to see more of your "bunny" fursona. If you're ever thinking of getting more, Evil-Sprite and I can easily point you at a number of artists who do commission work. :) For now, you're doing this sort of as a side hobby. Do you think there's a potential to turn foot-modelling into a steady or viable income job (you certainly have the nice feet for it)?

(Adelaide) I think that I would want to keep this strictly as a hobby, just because it would be a huge commitment turning this into a steady income and I would never have the time to be committed as I needed to be, like with submitting art, keeping up with paid requests, etc. (:

(TC) *nods* The old person in me agrees there - turning it into a career would really take a lot of work, and that might take the fun out of it too. Now what do you do outside of that for work? And do you have a career goal in mind or a dream job you'd like to do?

(Adelaide) I'm currently working as a health care aide with people with special needs! I enjoy it, but don't want to remain there the rest of my life. I'm working towards becoming a paramedic! Hoping to have all my prerequisites finished so that I can apply for the fall of 2018! (:

(TC) Oooohhh, very cool! And a very selfless current AND future career choice. :) Any cool hobbies or pastimes you have and enjoy when not busy working or modelling?

(Adelaide) I mentioned in my summary that I play piano, the violin, and the ukulele.. so there's that! (: I enjoy reading, going for walks.. uhm.. I write songs as well, or try to. I usually come up with a chorus and that's it. xD Other than that, I binge watch TV series and am constantly playing Breath of the Wild!

(TC) Heh, binge-watching is so much easier with streaming services today. XD Yeah, you have a lot of musical talent by the sounds of it! You've mentioned you have a mate - is he (or her... *shrugs* don't know which way it goes, not that it matters) privy to the modelling stuff? What do they think?

(Adelaide) He wasn't into it at all when I first brought it up, which was probably a year ago, actually. I mentioned it a few other times and he always said no.. until I brought up being completely anonymous with the mask and such, then he finally agreed. Doesn't care for the idea but gave me the OK, so that's good! (:

(TC) That's understandable honestly - anonymity is important to keep, despite people really starting to lose site of privacy nowadays. Even though a foot fetish is probably one of the safest and more benign attractions, it's still better to keep it separated to some degree from your everyday life. Now, with your mate, how about those gorgeous feet of yours - I hope they get proper pampering and attention from your mate?

(Adelaide) He massages them here and there. He's not into feet. That's okay though!

(TC) *chuckles* Figures - two of the most beautiful feet in the world and he's not into feet. XD Well, it is good at least that he pampers them for you. On a more serious note, you've admitted recently on your DA account that you've had some anxiety issues - and that's a problem I know many of my friends and folks on here have faced as well. So first off, again, thank you for being willing to do this with us - it's very appreciated. Do you find doing public things like the modelling helps in working through the social anxiety's?

(Adelaide) Absolutely my pleasure (: I think that it helps to bring me out of my shell. I'm generally a very shy and quiet girl and I hate being in the spotlight, and that's also a big reason why I have the mask, I feel so much more comfortable doing this knowing that people have no idea who I am or what I look like. That helps so much with the social anxiety.. because without the mask, I wouldn't be here. Even in IRL, I try to be invisible, I don't do anything that gets me noticed. And I do everything in my power to keep myself out of situations that might bring on a panic attack, so.. heh. But regardless of all this, I am trying incredibly hard to get past it, because I don't want to be held back from the things I want to do. I hate being controlled by it and it's incredibly hard to get past it, but I keep a positive attitude and constantly remind myself that I can regain control again, with knowledge, exposure, and a lot of support. The support I got from dA was really lovely, and has put me in a good place. (:

(TC) Are there other things you find that help that you can share with others who might be in the same boat?

(Adelaide) I do have some words of advice. If you feel that you have a problem and are struggling, the best thing you could ever do is to seek help. I avoided getting help for a long time and what used to be a minor problem has now turned into something huge. I felt so stupid and embarrassed and never mentioned anything about it to my doctor, and I regret it now. Now I'm on two different medications (an antidepressant and Ativan) and in therapy and while I'm 10x better than I was a year ago, I'm still struggling with anxiety. Also, knowledge is power. Read books, do your research, learn about your diagnosis, it goes a long way. I also want to recommend this book I recently purchased.. "Hope and help for your nerves" by Dr. Claire Weekes. I've read so many good reviews on it. I haven't read it yet but I am looking forward to it! (:

(TC) Mmmf... absolutely agreed - the sooner you bring it up with your doctor, friends and parents (if applicable), the sooner the process of getting help and finding healing solutions can begin. Just to add my own experience to that from having friends and a mate who has this issue too - medication really varies from person to person, so sometimes they have to try a lot of different things out to find the one that works best for you. Wonderful advice Adelaide - thank you for sharing that with us all. Now let's turn things around a moment - do you have any questions you'd like to ask me or the Paw-Post staff?

(Adelaide) I am so bad at coming up with questions for people, aha! Uhm. I'm curious what everyone's favourite paw is? For me, I really love cat paws.. so small and pretty. And a question that is unrelated to any of this, but what is everyone's favourite music genre? (:

(TC) Heh - well, that's a tricky question. Most of the paws I like best are the ones that are in the furry fandom, so they're what we call anthropomorphic, or more simply put, fantasy footpaws. The ones I like best are usually feline and canine footpaws, but I most like what we call class 3 or C3, which are plantigrade footpaws like a person, but much wider with toes that are large and follow an arc'd taper like my own fursona. Overall, hybrid footpaws are some of my favourites - paws that combine really alluring aspects like rat and feline (looking at you Corvus :3), dragon-dog (like mine), or are super original like TideKeeper's Raskei race, or Sera's dragon character. VERY nice feet there.

For music, I'm kind of all over the map there - as you might see if you look at past Paw-Posts at all my "Random Music Picks", lol. My favourite genre's are Heavy Metal, Dance, Trip-Hop, Electro-house, Techno, Trance, Rock, New-Age, Electronica and 80's Synth-rock. But I do listen to other stuff too. Probably shorter to list things I don't like. *laughs*

(Sera) Hi Adelaide! My favorite paws are pretty similar to your favorite. Definitely feline, but more specifically big cats due to the much thicker appearance. ^_^

As for music, that can vary when it comes to movie or game soundtracks, so I guess I'd say I'm an all-rounder. I avoid any modern music like the plague simply because it's all terrible these days. XD

(VampireKitty / Corvus) I am extremely partial to feline paws. I favor small cats for their cute little feet and big cats for their soft chunky looking feet that manage to keep a good balance of grace and deadliness. (undecided on music genre)

(Tide) Not entirely sure that I have an outright favorite, but I like feline paws quite a bit. The music question is even harder - I listen to a pretty fair range of music.. but soft rock is probably a top contender.

(Rylae) I'd have to say paw wise... a tie between dog paws and dragon paws. Dog paws are fun to tickle while dragon paws are easy to clean. Music tastes for me is a total grab-bag as I like a lot of genres. Though one I'd pick that I generally default to would be Rock.

(Cathulu) I love cat paws. I have two cats, and I love to play with their little feets ^_^. As for music, rock usually. I'm a big fan of Tool, but I also like classic rock as well. And chillstep. :)

(TC) Alright - so last thing; would you like to say anything to the readers of the Paw-Post or your fans in general?

(Adelaide) I want to say a big thank you for having me on this paw-post, it was super fun and really appreciate this opportunity. Also, thank you to the readers for taking an interest in me, it feels really nice and it means a ton. And thank you to my fans! I've gotten so much support from day one and I've received so many beautiful comments and notes from so many kind and lovely people. I appreciate it so much! I will shower you all with photos soon!! (:

Thank you so much Adelaide! A very neat highlight and certainly our first "Person" highlight. It's an honour to have you be so open and willing to share and do stuff like this. For the rest of ya, please go check out her Deviant Art page and keep an eye on it, and don't be surprised if you see more art of her bunny-fursona popping up from time to time! Do leave a comment on her work and thank her - feedback is useful to her (as with any artist and creator). :) Have a great weekend everyone, and wish me luck on my core-upgrade! XD
