

BONUS ACTIVITIES

Do you want to spice up your Spirit Week? Here's some fun suggestions to keep the party going.

No matter how you do it. Have fun. And don't forget to post photos and videos to earn team bonus points.

CARPOOL, RIDE THE BUS, OR BIKE TO WORK

Support alternative transit when you try something a little bit different.

CRAZY SOCK WALK-OFF

Halloween socks, Valentines socks, ugly socks, long socks, bright socks, frilly socks. We all love socks. Sock-it to your co-workers when you have a crazy sock walk-off. Award prizes based on an arbitrary set of criteria.

FASHION SHOW

Show off your Spirit Week wear!

Bonus points if you include props.

FIGHT SONG SING OFF

You've got spirit, yes you do! Show your school pride, share your favorite team's fan chant (And that's another Cougar First Down!), or make up a cheer of your own. It doesn't matter how you do it, just keep the spirit going!

OFFICE OLYMPICS

Office Olympics ideas are fun and exciting games that get the whole office involved. For example, soccer, basketball, and even biathlon. These ideas aim to be an escape from day-to-day work responsibilities. The purpose of these activities is to encourage camaraderie, unity, and relationship-building. See suggested games here.

MORE

There's no limit to building culture among your team. Create a fun spin on the daily themes and encourage a little friendly competition.
