

Today we talked about the size of the problem.

Ask me about:

1. What are the different problem sizes? How can I determine which is which?
2. What would be an example of a small pebble problem? Medium rock? Big mountain?
3. What happens if the size of the problem doesn't match the size of my reaction?

Today we talked about the size of the problem.

Ask me about:

1. What are the different problem sizes? How can I determine which is which?
2. What would be an example of a small pebble problem? Medium rock? Big mountain?
3. What happens if the size of the problem doesn't match the size of my reaction?