

To type into this document, sign in to Google, click on FILE and then scroll down to MAKE A COPY. A pop-up window will appear allowing you to rename the document. Highlight and erase COPY OF and type in your last name instead.

Type your name here:

Part 1. Choose ONE primary source document in the left column and answer ALL of the following questions about your selected document in the section below.

1. The primary source document I am responding to is:

2. What type of document is this?

3. When was the document written?

4. Who was the audience for the document?

5. Why was the document created?

Part 2. Choose to complete ONE of the following statements:

6. I see . . .
(What does this seem to say regarding the American Revolution?)

7. I think that . . .
(What does this say about the Connecticut connection or the American Revolution?)

8. I wonder . . .
(What if this had not happened?)

Part 3. Choose to complete ONE of the following statements:

9. To what extent does this source align with what you already know about the American Revolution?

10. What are the challenges in developing an accurate account of a historical event such as this?

11. If you were to go about writing your own historical account of events, how would you go about doing so?

12. What questions do you still have about the source you selected?
