

Q is for the quizzes that I now take online.

U is for the uncertainty that we may never return to school to finish out the year

A is for the aching pit in my stomach full of fears

R is for the many hours of relaxation I now get

A is for the answers I may never get

N is for the naps that I take daily

T is for all the time that we have at home

It is for the infinite amount of questions I have for the CDC.

N is for necessities that we stock up on from the grocery store

E is for the excitement i feel when i step outside

Erin Lapides