

SIR v PP Match Setting

The contestants find themselves on an endless road at the dead of night. The moon is high in the sky, and unusually large. Nearby in the woods is an overturned, wrecked car, looking as if it was torn apart with incredible force. A faint GPS can be heard repeating “You have arrived at your destination.” ad infinitum.

Gazing upon the moon fills the contestants with an inexplicable feeling of dread. Occasionally, a blood curdling scream will sound out in the distance, seeming to get closer every time it calls. The contestants wake up before whatever is screaming reaches them.

[References: Local58 - You Are on the Fastest Available Route]