

(The World Situation, January 1991)

From: Cmdr. Kortron
HQ Light Forces, East Coast

To: All Light Workers

All of you are now confused and awaiting orders in the rising world situation. Some things have been scrapped such as old directives on many levels because the Highest Directives are now being addressed because of the Negative aspect overshadowing world Peace and Love.

We knew that the forces controlling Earth would reach this time of decision. Our hopes in establishing one world order were that this would be done in the highest Light of the presence of our Father in each individual creating this new aspect. We also hoped it would open doors of the highest union of man to what created it as a beginning of Earth's higher involvement to the Mansion world reality everything else exists in beyond this area of rebellion. Earth is now facing Judgment Day as a self inflicted act of stubborn denial and refusal of the Father's presence of Love as the only real force in Creation.

Our presence as the Forces of Light has been in contact with the world leaders as a means of straightening out this dilemma now reaching levels invoking the Father's interjection as the only means left that would created the outcome of Love over the many negative aspects created in fear this world now resides in.

Humility and forgiveness by averting great destruction on Earth as in the event of steering the great planetary asteroid away from Earth will now be lifted. All future events will be allowed in order to cleanse once and for all negative fear based thoughts of War creating man's inhumanity to all life.

Great Armies now involved in this great act of terror will be leveled to heaps of ashes in the great removal of all who in- still and follow this as their way away from acts of Peace and Love.

All of you are now involved in the greatest drama Earth has ever witnessed since its conception. This will be experienced in ways few have imagined as any real possibility. The next Asteroid is on a direct collision course with Saudi Arabia and its impact will be in the middle of February as close as we can determine.
Our intervention in this next instance has been canceled by the highest councils as it is seen as only continuing Earth's suffering by doing so. God's hand is firmly in place as the aspect of ending these Wars and suffering on this planet.
That mercy is now being lifted and that hand is now being directed at the few controlling the many who are creating these conflicts in a manner saying enough is enough, mine will will be done on Earth.
In the weeks and months to follow all of Earth's inhabitants will experience events taking Earth into its final birth throes to Mansion World Reality, it's last final contractions of bir- thing Heaven on Earth. Those holding fast in this becoming reali- ty never leaving the Father's house of Love will weather these great changes and assemble others in the reconstruction of this reality as bearers of Divine Love - the one and only reality.

(Update #3)

January 18, 1991

All Light Workers:

Many of you are now experiencing increasing anxiety about your prescribed reason for being here on Earth assignment. Your thoughts and feelings are now more than ever in a state of a desperate need to link up to your task and deed and find where you are supposed to be, then if at all possible finish last minute details. In doing so you will be disconnecting from life's attachments which hold you fast and prevent you from linking up to your group of twelve or whatever your job is.

You now feel more than ever that time has become almost nonexistent and any delay in your part will sever the connection you feel most drawn to as your part to this whole thing. Your greatest fear now is not that it all is an illusion as the world crumbles around you, but rather a great fear of losing what before you thought was not quite real you now realize was and is. To take the big step is now your present dilemma. To leave all and cast fate to the wind letting Spirit take the driver's seat thus propelling you forward in complete trust all will be al- right; you know you will not perish by this your greatest of all decisions you now face and now know you must make.

We, at the headquarters command, realize your dilemma and must say in all sincerity that we took the final separation or plunge into the unknown and did survive it. It is important to know that if you are at present on the east coast that this is your sector and is your duty station although you may or may not be in your exact location in the sector. We in our understanding realize the great confusion many must feel and we do feel your anxiety as we too once were faced with similar decisions and confusion. We made the move and eventually our decision to do so benefited us and served us well. Meaning, in doing so we are better off now than we could have achieved by holding back.

If, for some reason, you have not realized your inner voice connection but feel very strongly drawn to one who has they are your mentor and guide in this up and coming move to your duty station. I'm referring to those now finalizing their last minute business preparing for the final move. If you feel an inseparable connection with this person and realize it is also time for you to leave, then follow their lead. Certain things must form and certain groups must merge in the little time left before Earth goes into final mutational changes. Beyond this time left little if any chance will remain in the year to follow of any possibility for this to occur. Time is running out fast. This is not said to frighten you but rather to reinforce your inner knowledge that now, more than ever before, is the time for action. Those holding their ground must support as their part the coming needs as one solidly based group for others being told to do so. In this we are referring to those sending needed revenues to those forming the places they and others will at the very last minute be instructed to go to. If these places are not set up and firmly in place, created by those in the position to help finance them, along with those out in the field with experience to create them then dear ones they will not be there when the final hour approaches. The need for these places and their use will be self evident to all they will serve and their need has been channeled to many.

You have been told that certain times were coming and that certain things needed to be understood and done in order for other things to follow in a prescribed plan of action. Because of a rampant, scattered response and in some instances a stubborn denial in following inner guidance plus a lack of real commitment, certain things are now in a state of disarray creat- ing in many aspects a plan now with many cracks in it.

We are now telling you that the hour is late and the need is great to finally get on track and do as a committed combined group the needed things or the result will most assuredly be a mass loss of our ranks because of a lack of true direction in the things coming and already here. The tide has shifted and our real position has shifted severally because of many creating cracks in the mission of creating Heaven on Earth. This resulted in a stubborn fixation of following instead of developing inner guidance thereby letting others create your reality instead of creating the flowing communication to Spirit we were all supposed to open. If this were done updates would be unnecessary.
It constantly comes to many ears that this person said that or that person said this. All this creates is many running hither and fro accomplishing nothing but false followings for those who feel they need to gather many around them.
Have you all forgotten the story of the blind leading the blind??
This is your only recourse - it is better to follow those by the fruits that their labor bare as your reason rather than the words of this one or that one. The Reality of this is that the fruits are spawned by those doing, not by those telling you this or that and getting rich by those than blindly follow this one or that one. Do you understand?? Those doing are the ones who should be drawing your attention not those casting pretty words upon the waters and little else. If you see a plan actually evolving not just words chances are these people are really doing something for the good of Earth and all life forms here.
These words are not hollow but filled with wisdom and hardship by the actual hands on doing with (for the most part) little support.

Many get fat living off pretty words that many of you support fully but in reality they are not doing anything but living off your ignorance and your gullibility. At the same time the hour nears and real things of real worth are not being done or supported because those actually doing are scrapping an empty pot as the means are not there for the important work and things which need to be done. All life down here effects you dear ones as you are a part of all life.

One of these people came here one day. She said, "Boy, you are scrapping the bottom of the barrel aren't you?" This same person drags gullible people to her to the tune of three or four or more hundred dollars a day. She is fat from these gullible fools who receive a kind word or some false guidance, when in reality their real guidance lies within. But for some reason or another it is much easier to get a lie or false reading versus hearing the voice of God within by just listening. Pretty words won't get you over the bridge no matter what these people tell you. For years nothing has been shown to me that this person has done with all this wealth accumulated. We still wait to see even a gesture of support from these people.

In my particular situation I have never gone to one of these and my part in the mission is deeply entrenched in fertile soil as Jesus spoke about in the final days versus faith that sits on a rock easily dislodged. So there you have it. Your guidance whether true or false will stand on its worth as baring good fruit or not. Rest assured your job here on Earth in the final hour will be known for the fruit it will bare helping others in the times of need directly ahead.

Now read these words carefully!! None of you will be rescued or survive the times ahead as single entities standing alone in an approaching storm. The times ahead are going to be rough. Some of you have been told to stay put as you are in a position to help as you are already set up to do so. Some of you are being told to move, link up and become a part of those doing as a group in order to prepare for a variety of things that need doing at this time. These things range from embassies to life off sights and the formation of Islands of Light bringing many new things for those in need to experience and learn in order to survive the times ahead. Now is the time for a change of lack of support to actual hands on doing in all endeavors. Make no mistake the time is here and each and every one of you had better heed the call "now is the time" as this call will be the very last, there being little time left. All other calls will ring in your ears as another matter completely different because of changes directly ahead. A lot now needs doing and very little time remains.

Our purpose, our reason for being here is our part and our love of all life in bringing many into the reality of living into the times ahead and actually seeing Heaven on Earth. Few if any will have than chance if we continue in scattered mixed ideas of our reasons for being light workers at this time and continue following those in the past that did nothing but tell us pretty words and did nothing beyond those words in creating Heaven on Earth. Look to those now doing.

It is my sincere hope our reason and our goals in creating Heaven on Earth will bare the fruit of the eternal one we love and that love will be experienced by all those we came to help here on Earth. Blessings to all. Let the final hour bare the fruit of eternal love.

Peace and Love,
