

Amped: We Don't Believe In Curses

A recent article in TKO suggested that there is a “TKO Cover Curse”, whereby fighters who appear on the magazine cover are cursed to lose their next fight. The Amped stable would like to respond to that with the middle finger. Amped girls love to be on the cover of magazines! Any publicity is good publicity and anyone in their right mind knows curses are a load of old wives tales.

Today we begin a series on “Guess the Amped Girl by body part”, for all you fetish fanboys and fangirls out there.

Round one is Armpit. Can you pick the Amped fighter just by looking at her armpit?

Answers at the end of this article.

Sky: Soon, Dove. Soon.

Sky Ferreira gets 15th straight win, defeating former champion Lais Ribeiro.

"I gave everything I had against Lais, and I won. All my hard work, all my training, all those horrible protein drinks. It all paid off."

"Not only did I beat Lais, I forced her to tap out to an armbar. You know what that does for me? It shows everyone that I can win big fights. I'm not intimidated."

"But here's the shitty part of my win in Rome. I still don't have a high enough ranking to challenge Dove Cameron for her title. Come on, UCC! What the fuck is this bullshit?"

"Lais gets to challenge 'The Slut', while I have to fight Julianne Hough. It's gonna be rough, Julianne was the last woman to defeat me. No way she'll beat me again. NO. FUCKING. WAY."

"Dove. I'm coming for ya."

Ellie: I believe in spirits!

A distraction free win from Ellie Goulding against top ranked Bella Hadid.

"UCC XVI was great for some of Amped, not so good for others. But we're setting up a solid foundation for 2022."

"I kept my eyes on the prize and focused on winning against Bella Hadid. A pity the win was a TKO, the stupid ref ended the match before I could knock Bella out cold. But, fuck it, I'll take the points."

"I'd love to challenge for the welterweight title this year. It would be sweet for Sky and myself to be champions."

"As for this so-called 'Cover Curse', what a load of crap. Amped don't believe in curses, voodoo, ghosts or hexes. Although we do believe in spirits. Such as gin, vodka and whisky."

Ella: Frustration or Curse?

Cut up and bruised in her loss to Valerie van der Graaf, Ella Yelich-O'Connor must regroup.

"Shit. I should have been more in control against Valerie. It's not like I'm going to get the chance to cage fight in the Vatican again. I'm really pissed at myself right now."

"Valerie is a damn good fighter. I misread this match and fucked myself over. I'd kick myself, but I'd probably miss."

"I need to clear my head and get my shit together. Otherwise I'm going to end up losing to Maria Sharapova in Rio. She's on a roll and I need to be in top form to shut her down."

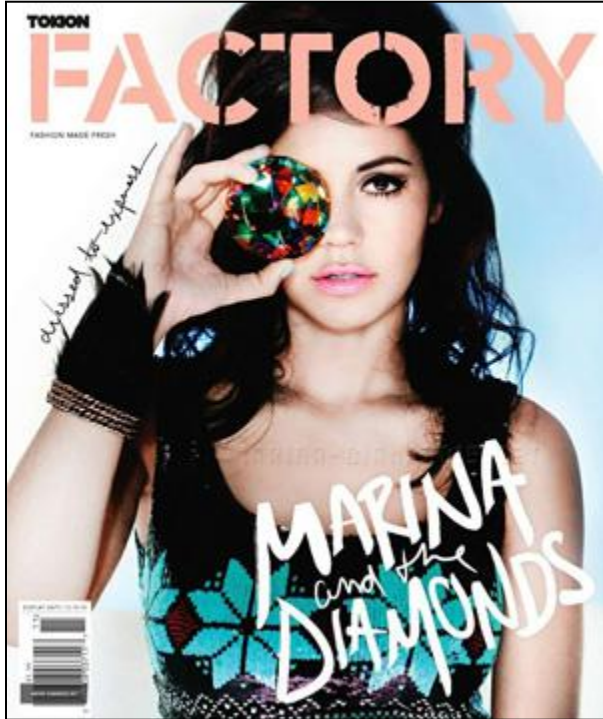

"I wasn't on the cover of TKO Magazine, was I?"

"No? Then I only have myself to blame for this."

Marina: Still looking for impact

Marina Diamandis backs up her Swimsuit win by crushing Jessica Alba.

"I really wanted a KO or submission win against Jessica. Something that would help me to stamp some authority on the heavyweight division."

"I knew Jessica would be a tough cookie, that bitch just would not stay down! In the end it was up to the referee to call the fight and hand me a TKO win"

"Not quite the impact I wanted to achieve."

"Regardless, I'll push ahead. Maybe I can knock Jennifer Lawrence out at UCC XVII. Taking the scalp of a Hellfire Girl should create the desired impact I want."

"Peace and vegetable rights."

Bebe: Flattened by a Finnish Olympian

Bebe Rexha gets knocked out by Hanna-Maria Seppälä in a one way battle .

"Ouch."

"If Hanna-Maria makes love to Victoria Justice with the same power and passion that she used when she ripped me apart in the Vatican, then I wanna be Victoria!"

"I'm blown away with how accurate Hanna-Maria was, she hardly missed a shot. All of her kicks landed. I'm no chump, I've beaten my share of UCC fighters. But right now, my division needs to take note of Hanna-Maria. She's going places."

"What's up with this next UCC event? I'm fighting Elizabeth Gillies, another Hellfire Girl. So that's me, Ella and Marina, all fighting girls Travis manages? What's up with that?"

"Bebe, out."

Louisa: Hair loss is a serious issue

Louisa Rose Allen visits the stylist after her match with Olivia Munn.

"Even though I talked with Sky and she told me how to beat Olivia, I totally failed. I just got 100% beat up."

"Correction, more like 150% beat up."

"Olivia really smacked me up. I think she was having way too much fun beating me up. I was her plaything."

"She finished me off by grabbing me by the hair and throwing me across the cage. I lost a lot of hair."

"My hair is my one true beauty. sob"

"And what the hell? I'm fighting Salma Hayek, another Hellfire Girl at the next event? I don't know about curses, but this feels like a conspiracy to me!"

Charli: Winning wedgie

It's bully tactics as Charli Atichison wins against Tracey Bergman.

"Another grandma?"

"After they unhooked Tracey from her oxygen she lost the plot and was an easy win."

"I suppose she did manage to land some choice punches on me. The old bag had some reserves of strength, maybe from all the embalming fluid running through her veins."

"I took her back in time to the school yard for the win. Grabbing hold of her granny knickers and giving her a wedgie that left her helpless, dazed and confused."

"The magazine cover curse is a load of crap. I was on the cover after winning in Cuba. The next event I crushed Nina Dobrev."

"Although...that was the start of our troubles with North Korea...Hmmm."

Dua: Another city, another loss

Once again Dua Lipa would rather forget about her loss to Cote de Pablo.

"What. The. Fuck."

"What just happened?"

"How. Did. She. Beat. Me?"

"I...I...fuck...fuck this shit."

"If Stephaine McMahon beats me in Rio, someone better put me out of misery."

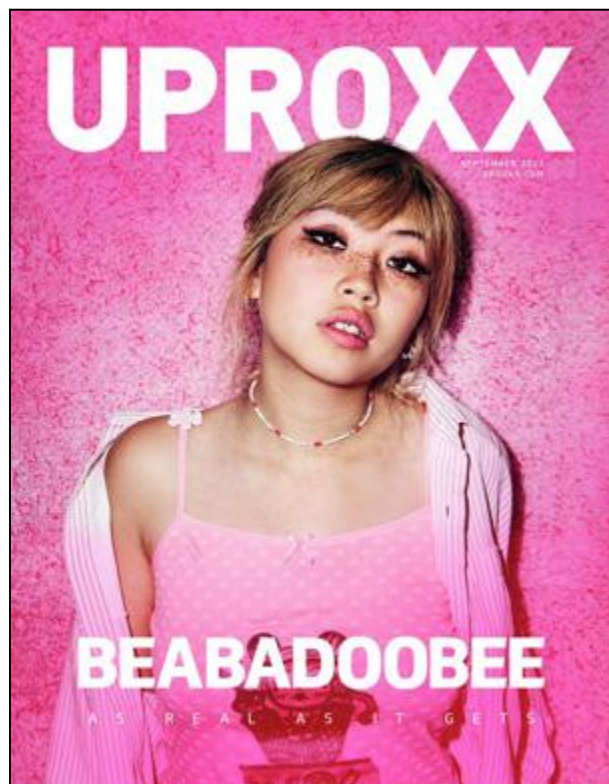

"I hate this game."

"But I do look fucking cool on these magazine covers. That curse can go fuck itself."

Beatrice: Trash is out

Beatrice Laus tashes Jodie Comer in one round of action.

"Excellent work."

"Jodie Comer might be 'Killing Eve', but she ain't killing me. I'm killing her. Ha. Get it?"

"Yea. Whatever."

"I don't even have ten UCC fights to my name and I'm already killing it."

"I don't believe in curses. I just believe in cursing."

"Fuck, yeah!"

"You wanna know about my next fight? Go look it up on the UCC website, you filthy animal."

Rina: Syndrome

A knee to the face from Madisyn Shipman gives Rina Sawayama another loss.

"Came here on my own
Party on my phone

Came here on my own
But I start to feel alone

Better late than never, so I'll be alright
Happiest whenever I'm with you online"
