Independent 20 minute English task, linked to the live lesson:

Today we would like you to try to write an apology letter from the Wolf to one of the pigs.

Try to challenge yourself by thinking about the emotions that the characters would have felt.

Remember to write in sentences.

Break and a snack

For the rest of the morning:

Independent Maths activity.

Today we are going to be comparing heights. There is no worksheet for today's lesson. Instead we would like you to watch the video and try the three tasks at the end. You do not need to write down your answers although if you'd like to share what you have found you could take a picture and put in on your slides.

afternoon:

Topic task:

Excitement

Yesterday you wrote down any worries you have about going to school. Did you crumple it into a ball and throw it? How far did it go? Those worries might still be in your mind, but there's a lot of fun, exciting things to think about when you go back to school. Can you think of 4 things that excite you the most? Use the worksheet to write/draw your idea. Click here.

Once you are done, hang this somewhere, maybe on your refrigerator, to remind you of the excitement you feel!
