Important commentary!

Team 1.....Team Love...revisited

Pros: From top to bottom, they have heavy hitters!

Keys: Will all be about the flatstick...

Team 2.....Bro's and Erickson

Pros: Might be the first time to have two sets of brothers in the same scramble team. All have played basketball in the Federal Way Junior High League. Likely all starters to boot!

Keys: In their high school careers, two were great tracksters (both T.E.'s), S.E. was good in football and baseball, and the McCully's were good in football, basketball and baseball (Matt was all SPSL in all 3). With all that talent, can they putt?

Team 3...Dads/ Sons and Aton

Pros: They do have a lot of Limerick experience, and along with Ditlefsen the only lefty They also get 1.5 strokes over the favorite.

Keys: A bit of a yard sale...will likely explore every bit of the course...a lot of unknowns

Team 4...Garage sale

Pros: Likely strong off the tee, will they be able to get the ball in the hole? Very diverse group!

Keys: Much thought has been put into the cart pairings. Will Welch be able to focus with all the questions about racing cars from Riley? Will Gray be able to keep Clark focused? Will McColgan be amiable to a barrage of unsolicited golf advice....hmmmm

Team 5.... Red hats/ Blue hats?

Pros: They definitely have the potential...hard to know how they will jell!

Keys: Will Redcoat, Rowell, Mesick and Matthews be able to focus on golf if the Helgerson's make some cracks about MAGA hats going for $1 and a free bowl of soup on Ebay.

Team 6...Scramble is on Friday?

Pros: Tons of potential, but oftentimes have competed in the scramble unable to remember the round the next day.

Keys: Will being aware of their round be an advantage or disadvantage or will they revert to old ways? Why fix what isn't broke?.

Team 7....Cart love!

Pros: No other team has as favorable cart assignments.

Keys: Will that translate to good golf...very likely!
