

COACHING AGREEMENT

8-Week Relationship Bootcamp

This Coaching Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into between the enrolling couple and Intimacy for Couples, governing participation in the 8-Week Relationship Bootcamp ("Program"). By enrolling in the Program, the Client agrees to the following terms:

1. Program Commitment

The Clients acknowledge that this is an 8-week coaching program designed to support and strengthen their relationship. The Clients agree to actively participate in the reflective exercises, and engage with the provided materials to maximise the benefits of the Program. Attendance of & participation in the live calls is recommended; but not absolutely necessary. It will be necessary that both partners watch all of the teachings and participate in the reflective exercises in order to receive the benefits of the program.

2. No Refunds Policy

The Clients understand and agree that all sales are final. Due to the nature of this Program and the commitment required, no refunds will be provided under any circumstances, including but not limited to, relationship changes or separations during the Program. The Clients acknowledge that transformation and growth require dedication, and the investment in the Program is non-refundable.

3. Privacy & Confidentiality

The Clients agree to maintain the privacy and confidentiality of all participants in the Program. While the Clients are welcome to share their own personal experience, they must not disclose the names, personal details, or experiences of other participants outside of the Program. There is to be no sharing of any of the call recordings under any circumstances. This ensures a safe and respectful coaching environment for all.

4. Course Material & Login Confidentiality

All course materials, including but not limited to worksheets, videos, coaching calls, and any other Program content, are for the Clients; personal use only. The Clients agree not to share, reproduce, distribute, or grant access to any Program materials or logins with third parties. Violation of this clause may result in immediate removal from the Program without refund and potential legal action.

5. Coaching Relationship & Disclaimer

The Clients understand that group coaching is not therapy, counselling, or legal advice. The Coaches provide guidance, strategies, and tools to support the Clients' relationship journey but does not guarantee specific outcomes. The Clients are responsible for their own results and acknowledge that personal commitment and effort are essential for transformation.

6. Global Participation & Legal Jurisdiction

This Program is open to a global audience, but the governing law of this Agreement shall be the laws of Australia. Any disputes arising from this Agreement shall be resolved under Australian law.

7. Acknowledgment & Agreement

By enrolling in the Program, the Clients (i.e. both partners enrolling) confirm that they have read, understood, and agreed to the terms outlined in this Agreement.
