

Some Closure.

I know a lot of you wondered where I went, some of you have been wondering if I'm doing okay. I'm on a new YouTube account, I'm also on a new discord, those of which I'm keeping private.

I am doing okay as well, or well, as okay as one can be when you have to keep up with college deadlines and general work, but don't worry, I'm pushing through it!

There are definitely some people I'd like to give some thank yous to though, those who've just generally been a joy to have been around, some of those have known me longer than others, some have known me for a shorter time, but you're all equally as valuable to me as people:

Pincer, thank you for the opportunity to make a song for your amazing project, I truly hope IF goes well, and if we do talk again, I'm more than happy to assist with some stuff from the sidelines.

Teddy, thank you for just generally being such a chill person to vibe around, vcs with you have always been hella fun, don't forget the dwagons.....

Phantom, YOU'RE THE GOATTTTT

Ps: I've beaten Madarame in Royal, I'm a Persona Professional...

Liam, I generally know our friendship in the past has been rough to say the least, and I know you've very likely moved on from me as a person but I will always cherish the memories we had as friends, all the way from being stupid British fucks in Oblivion, to the rampant Item Asylum grinds where we would crash out at "LEWIS" everytime he killed our asses (genuinely though how in the hell did we get so many lobbies with that guy)

Leebert, I've actually dropped you a request on discord from my new account but incase there's a chance we don't talk again I'd just like to say you're such a chill guy ™

All the advice you've given me with music has really helped shape me up to be the musician I am today, I'm forever grateful to you because of that.

Caxxiu/Wavi, I genuinely feel as if this whole list would be incomplete without your inclusion, without you I genuinely wouldn't have had the chance to get as far as I did in FNF.

"Last Days" was my first known FNF Corruption related project, and it really pushed me into the community, I remember when I would cook up a whole song in like a day lmao

A Special Thanks To:

And so, so much more.

To those that weren't named here, I still do appreciate every single one of you, there's just so many of you guys that I've hand picked out some important names (to me) to give personalised messages to, you're still incredibly great people, never let anyone tell you otherwise!!

What's Next?

Realistically I'm just going to keep posting music on my new account, I want to chase my dream of being a musician for Video Games and Song Artists alike.

I'm still learning and improving on my knowledge as time goes by!

Although I do genuinely think it's time for me to say goodbye to all of you, thank you for the memories, thank you for all the funny moments and general vibes I've had in this community, I didn't want this message to relay any negative perspectives I have on FNF, I instead wanted to focus on the good, to maybe help some people focus on the positives in things.

And a phrasing that may be familiar to some of you:

Don't be upset that things are over, be glad that they happened, cherish moments that are important to you. - Violet
