considered a government secret. If it is a secret card, only cases that clearly state evidence, circumstances, and witnesses shall be considered. The reporting of influential persons shall conceal the name and address of the complainant. If the name and address of the complainant are not concealed, the relevant agency shall be notified and the complainant shall be protected as follows: "The commanding officer shall exercise discretion and order as appropriate to protect the complainant, witnesses, and persons providing information in the investigation, so that they do not suffer harm or injustice that may arise from the complaint, being a witness, or providing information." In cases where the accused person's name is specified, both the complainant and the accused must be protected because the matter has not yet gone through the fact-finding process and may be considered as a harassment accusation that causes distress and damage. In cases where the complainant states in the petition to conceal or does not wish to disclose the complainant's name, the agency must not disclose the complainant's name to the accused agency. Because the complainant may suffer from the cause of the complaint.

The report of influential persons must conceal the name and address of the complainant. If the name and address of the complainant are not concealed, the relevant agency must be informed and the complainant must be protected as follows: "The commander must exercise discretion and order appropriately to protect the complainant, witnesses, and persons who provide information in the investigation, so that they do not suffer harm or injustice that may arise from the complaint, being a witness, or providing such information." In the case where the accused is named, both the complainant and the accused must be protected because this matter has not yet gone through the fact-finding process and may be a harassment accusation that causes suffering and damage. In the case where the complainant states in the request to conceal or does not want the complainant's name to be disclosed, the agency must not disclose the complainant's name to the complainant's agency because the complainant may suffer from the cause of the complaint.

2. When a complaint is made, the complainant and witnesses will not be subject to any action that affects their work or life. If any action is necessary, such as separating the workplace to prevent the complainant, witness, and accused from meeting each other, the consent of the complainant and witness must be obtained.

3. Requests of the injured party, complainant, or witness, such as requesting to move the workplace or methods to prevent or solve the problem. Should be considered by the responsible person or agency as appropriate

4. Provide protection for the complainant from being harassed.

This announcement is hereby issued on October 1st, 2024.
