

Fantasy Team Annotated Bibliography

When selecting a fantasy team, you evaluate players based on what you think their performance in different statistics will be like during the season. You need to select a fantasy team of articles for your bibliography that will lead to the most effective researched writing. For all of the articles provided, evaluate them for each of the categories of criteria, assigning a ranking from 1-5 (1 is the best) for every column. Then determine which three articles have the best Overall Player Ratings and would make the BEST fantasy team. We'll compare your teams to our expert's selections to see which team wins!
