Series submission

Should include: a series name or working title, a brief overview of the first story arc, principal characters (hero, villain, repeating minor characters), any additional races, and in depth summary of the first issue not necessarily a script.

And most important; how does this series affect the universe as a whole, what rules will you establish about how the world works, we don't want to have a human based out of a colony outside of the milky way only to have another character saying that the inter-planetary community doesn't spread outside of the galaxy.

Character Submission form:

Character Name:

Race:

Physical attributes: (must be enough for artist to draw)

Powers and weaknesses: (Consider the sort of people the character will be interacting with, someone dealing with street level crime does not need to be superman.)

Nemesis: (if relevant)

History of character: (2-3 paragraphs)

Personality traits: don't just give a list, describe the sort of person they are and how they act in the situations they are going to be placed in.

Race Submission (if relevant)

Race name:
home planet:
Physical Description: (enough for someone to draw)
culture: (religion, politics, history, technological level, as much as you can get down about the race)
Skills: (powers, strengths, weaknesses. are they stronger or weaker than a human? do they have some sort of other form of sensory abilities)
