Distance Learning: Week 3

Can it be?

It's Week Three!

See what I did there? Poetry in photo. Who would have thought?

One reminder: keep working on those COVID 19 journals. Remember that you need to post one photo per week on the shared Google album. I just want to see proof that you're keeping up on it!

I just want to say...I have been SO proud of all of the work you have put in in the last couple of weeks. Your photos have been beautiful, and your effort has been impressive. You all could make me cry with pride! Keep it going.

I miss you. I think about your well-being DAILY. Remember that you can always email me with any concerns that you have.

Course Resources:

Thanks to a fellow GUHSD photo teacher (shoutout to Ms. Jungman), we have access to some AWESOME resources that will help you be successful as we move forward with distance learning, photo style!

You can STILL take awesome photos, even without a camera. A cell phone will produce beautiful images, if you follow the tips below.

- Tips for cell phone photography

You will still be responsible for editing ALL of the photos you submit. Check out the apps listed in the document below.
