

What would be your idea of what a “Restorative Revolution” could look like? What specific elements from the film Gather (such as knowledge, practices, values, rights, etc.) do you think would be important to include in this? What might your own additional ideas be? What role might you play?