

holy water

where is this god in which you believe do you really think he'd let these things go on this long and if say he would what makes you think he deserves our praise as for me i choose to turn my back i choose to turn away please don't look at me as if it was some kind of blaspheme i have the right to believe what i believe so don't drown me in your holy water i believe what i know and i know what i believe don't hold my head under your holy water i believe what i know and i know what i believe in you might think that this earth is just a stepping stone to heaven but it's all i've got it's all i've got and it would comfort me to know that when i'm dead and gone it'll be here for my children i think it's time that we stopped waiting for him to save it i think it's time we finally did it for ourselves
