

The Rashida-Zurmania Mutual Defense Treaty

4/8/17

For ages, Zurmania and Rashida have had trade relations envied the world over. Over time the two have developed a close reliance and friendship with each other. As a result the two have convened together to create this treaty for mutual defence of the both nations, in hopes of bringing them into a new age of mutual prosperity and safety.

1. The New Rashida Republic and The People's Republic of Zurmania shall both consent to a Mutual Defense Pact.
2. Each respective nation must adhere to the following terms:
 - a. Neither nation may infringe upon the sovereignty of the other;

- b. Each nation must respect one another's land claims and borders;
- c. Neither nation is to declare war upon one another;
- d. In the event of a defensive war, both nations will participate and aid one another in the common defense of Rashidii and Zurmanian territory throughout Provenance;
- e. The Treaty shall be rendered void if any member's national government decides to nullify the treaty, with a 72 hour period of non-aggression following such statement.

3. Upon signatures from respective leaders, this treaty shall be ratified.
