Nickname:Seb, Bastian,Basty

Age:28

Gender: Male

Species: Human

Hometown/Starting place: The City of Clarey

Abilities: Quick thinking, a low level of strategic planning, basic comprehensive of survival, a good level of some leadership qualities. Over time learns to create things, like weapons and armour from various pamphlets he would find during the apocalypse over a certain period of time.

Weapon/ Combat Proficiency: lightweight weapons, beginner training level of boxing, Basic level handheld gun training.

Family: Grandmother.

Weaknesses and Flaws: Has little confidence in himself very paranoid, pessimistic, Past trauma and abuse have made him unresponsive to insults and criticism so he just festers from within unable to react. Tends to be self-sacrificing due to low level of self-confidence. Has to desire to be liked by everyone and tends to overdo things for other people, leading to him being naive and potentially used and or manipulated by others. Internalizes anger until it erupts randomly during distress.

Personality: You are known for being open, frank, outgoing and honest. At times, though, you are also blunt and quite indiscreet. Others have to learn not to take everything you say personally because you usually do not mean any harm. You appreciate living your life in a straightforward and simple manner -- you dislike social niceties and consider them to be hindrances to real communication. You have lots and lots of energy and tend to become quite restless if you feel confined. You demand the freedom to do as you choose -- you must be self-directed or you feel trapped and anxious. With your abundant energy, you enjoy being outdoors, and you should be attracted to physical exercise or to those forms of sport which can help you burn off some of that excess energy. Very gregarious, you love to socialize -- your innate enthusiasm livens up any gathering.

A slow and careful thinker, you like to present ideas visually and concretely. Abstractions are quite difficult for you to understand. For you, everything must be practical and useful in order to merit your attention. You are a perfectionist -- you enjoy being skilful enough to handle the dexterity required of fine craftsmanship. Cautious and conservative in your thinking, you are very slow to change your opinions. You are more apt to respond to an appeal to your feelings than to an appeal to logic or reason.

You are known to be a warm and affectionate person, and you tend to form long-lasting attachments. The reverse of this is that you can also be quite possessive once you have made a commitment. The beauty, luxury and comfort of your surroundings are important to you and you will devote much time and energy to making your home just right. Beware of your tendency toward self-indulgence, especially with respect to eating incorrectly.

You also need outside stimuli to get you in gear When things come too easily for you, you can be lazy and indolent.

Basic Bio and History: His mother and father were immigrants from Italy and were on the run from the mafia, his father wishing to leave his criminal past. Having to hide from them made the family create fake accounts and new names. Sadly at 10th birthday, his family were having a barbecue party with friends and other extended family at his backyard and during the happy birthday song, Sebastian about to blow out the candles, the mafia found his mom and dad. They snuck and breached into the party and open fired on his mother and father in front of him, then turned to kill off the other family members all in the blink of an eye. It took the police 15 minutes to arrive on the scene and Sebastian had just enough sense to hide under the picnic table watching the carnage happen before his eyes. He was then sent to therapy and the entire 1-year session didn't seem to hold any recovery value for young Seb. He was sent to live with his only surviving family, his grandmother in the town of Clarey, where after his 27th birthday he became a cafe server at the cafe. Taking care of his grandmother who has succumbed to the stages of dementia and Alzheimer's is rather hard, but he wants for nothing and loves his life.
