

GIAB proposal as taking over some tasks of the closed GIC

Over the last ten days the approach has been discussed among the members of the GIC, and with input via email from a number people and during a quick GIC call. (please note that during our last GIC call, at least two people could not connect due to blocks of go2meeting by the corporate firewall, but they also provided feedback via email or 1on1 conversations afterwards.)

Here the pages in Wiki for the GIAB. For your approval during the board meeting today.

- https://www.owasp.org/index.php/Global_Industry_Advisory_Board

(the main page, with mission and goals, links to meeting minutes, etc.)

- https://www.owasp.org/index.php/Global_Industry_Advisory_Board_Governance

(the charter and how to select members and remove them)

- https://www.owasp.org/index.php/GIAB_nominated_candidates

(I took part of the nomination document of the old committees, and made it shorter and removed all this "becoming a member be a great honor" stuff and replaced it with serving our community.)

- https://www.owasp.org/index.php/Global_Industry_Advisory_Board_Joining_Form_-_Template

(to be clear: I would not ask everybody who already had endorsements from the GIC, to go through this process again; but I will link to the endorsement pages from the GIC for this purpose.)

If the board agrees with / nods for this entity, we need to set up a new mailing-list and work on opening the GIAB for new volunteers and transitioning of the existing active GIC members.

Best regards, Tobias

(ex-chair of the Global Industry Committee)
