ELA for All: Engaging All Learners in Equitable ELA Instruction

K-8

Reading, Writing, Speaking & Listening, and Language skills—ELA is critical for all students. Having proper support and interventions is key to meeting the individual needs of our literacy learners. However, traditional literacy instruction can rigidly label students and prevent them from receiving the same high-quality, rigorous, yet attainable, instruction. In this session, critically examine the systems in place that undermine equity in ELA instruction, and explore practical changes you can make to create an equitable ELA experience.
