

Thank you so much for supporting Utica Greens. Below is a chart with suggested donations as well as further explanations as to what activities you can directly support. Of course, these are all just suggestions. Please feel free to give as little or as much as you want or consider volunteering your time to one of our projects. Visit our GiveGab site for more information.

The funds from sponsoring a bed would go towards buying supplies for a bed in a garden for a season, so things like seeds, compost, any extra tools that might be needed, paint or other decorative items to help identify boxes. If you'd like, we can place a stone with your name in the bed you sponsor as a sign of our gratitude.

Sponsoring a gardener would be similar, except those things would go to a specific person instead of a bed. It could be someone you know or just generally a member who needs these supplies.

The same goes for sponsoring an organization. The money would be used to grow food in beds dedicated to a specific charity of your choosing and then all the food produced goes straight to that charity.

Sponsoring an entire garden would pay for more general supplies (shared seeds, tools, etc.) as well as some of the overhead involved in garden management.

Sponsoring a student helps cover some of the cost of our classes and workshops. Sponsoring a class would be the same but for an entire class.

Sponsoring a translator would help pay for some of the cost of translation services we would use when teaching classes to refugees or other community members who have limited English proficiency.

These are all just generally suggested donations, however. And of course people can choose to make a donation of any size and request it be used for any of these specific purposes or as a general donation to help fund the running of our organization and some of our overhead costs.

Other ways to get involved include working in a specific garden bed for a non-profit, volunteering on volunteer days for general clean-up or specific projects (I'll post these on our website and social media pages), or attending our nutritional cooking classes beginning January 2017 (the proceeds of which will help fund other classes, events, and projects). People can volunteer as individuals or with organizations.
