Hello {firstname},

Do you run an online agency that provides services to other businesses? Create websites, and social media, run their content blogs? Well, here's a product that can make your agency more profitable.

Podcasting & Videos

Every business would like to create a Podcast on their industry and also videos. Give their audience the latest tips, and tricks and they will build an audience and get more clients than ever before.

Now you can create marketing audio content for your clients using AI and charge them a stiff premium for it.

It's possible with the new software I created called Voisi. It's the ultimate toolkit for voice and languages.

Voisi is a different beast than anything you've seen so far in the market for audio.

All of those tools claim to help you, but they just make you work more. They just solve one piece of the puzzle and you need to get a lot of things done by hand.

Voisi is pure automation.
