

Send this one if you want to refer people to the program

Hi <name>,

I have recently found out about a coding program for women called She Codes Plus. The Plus program is fully-sponsored by BHP and Spacecubed, giving 20 Brisbane women the opportunity to learn to code through a part-time out-of-business-hours program. The program kicks off in late May, with applications open until the 27th March (here).

I think you would be a great fit for the program and would love to see you succeed.

The She Codes team have written a blog on tips for applying (here) and I'm happy to help you out by proof-reading your application, helping you with your video, and having your back as you apply.

Kind regards
