

AP World History 2025-2026

Directions: Closely read the following pages. To show your close reading, complete C-notes where you track the most important information, connections, and questions you may have. Your C-notes should be handwritten (increases retention 40 percent over typing) and kept in a spiral. Homework is due at the beginning of each week on Monday.

All reading is from The Earth and Its Peoples, by Richard W. Bulliet and others. For 2025-2026, all students will get a paper copy of the book in addition to online book access. Use whichever is more convenient and furthers your learning.

We will have homework due April 27 and May 4, but it will be cumulative review assignments. AP Test on Thursday, May 7. Students who choose to not take the official AP test will be given a test spread over several class periods in class to assess their learning and growth during the course.

After the test: We have more school days after the test than any other region of the country. We will do some student-driven research and introductory IB work in class, so that you would be set up to do the IB program if you chose to. So we will continue to work in class during this time, but I promise NO HOMEWORK from May 7 until the end of the year. Work hard from September to May 7, and then no stress after May 7. That's the way that AP classes usually work.
