

Unconditional Love

My heart is filled with roses, whose sweet aroma never subsides. My hands are the pink flowers whose leaves never run dry. My mouth is a flood of water that overflows with joy, awe, and warmth. My Lord Jesus has sent the rain, which pours from head to toe. The shadow of light has overthrown the shadow of death. O, my beloved sisters! How majestic is my Father's sovereign love! How excellent is thy tenderness! How magnificent is the voice of the sparrow that sings to the stars, the seas, the fields, and the desert! How glorious is thy presence! Though He looks down from Heaven, His wings float to the angels. His love is a circle, whose area and circumference is infinite. Yet, as I sit in my beautiful home, I possess a great fraction of His sovereign love. This is Agape love, which is the most infectious of all!
