

Subject line: Your agency

Hey [name of business],

Hope you are doing well on this blessed [day].

I want you to consider offloading some of your work so you can focus on clients who require more time.

My name is Abdul Rahman, and I am beginning my copywriting journey. I have been practising for some time and have recently decided to focus on writing video scripts, spending no more than 30 minutes on each copy.

It is all in the link below. All I ask is for you to take a look at it and perhaps give me feedback if you see anything I can improve on. (I will continue to add stuff to this document daily.)

If you like what you see, perhaps you will consider working together.

Let me know if you are interested.

Best regards,

Abdul
