We may disclose your information without notice if we are required to do so by law.

Under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the lawful bases we rely on for processing this information are:

- (a) Your consent. You are able to remove your consent at any time. You can do this by contacting hello@understandingperformance.com
- (b) We have a contractual obligation.
- (c) We have a legal obligation.
- (d) We have a legitimate interest.

Tracking user behaviour

Understanding Performance may keep track of pages our users visit within the Understanding Performance website, in order to determine which of our services are most popular. We use this data to deliver customised content to our website visitors and customers where their behaviour indicates they are interested in a particular service.

Links

This website may contain links to other sites. We are not responsible for the content or privacy practices/policies of such other sites. We would encourage users to read the privacy statements of said site that may collect your personally identifiable information, as each website will have its own privacy policies.

Email communications

We may contact you by email from time to time with general communications. We will only contact you with marketing or promotional offers if you have opted to receive our email communications (for example, newsletter or other services). You can opt out at any time by using the Unsubscribe button or by contacting us at hello@understandingperformance.com.

Updates to this policy

Our policy will be reviewed annually and any updates will be made herein and added to the website. Where there are significant changes or updates, we may contact you by email to notify you directly.

How we store your personal information

All personal data is stored securely in accordance with the EU General Data Protection Regulation (Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (GDPR))

If we hold any personal information about you, this is securely stored in the following locations:

- SSL on the website
- Within our trusted partners' platforms

We keep invoice data, and contact details for 7 years to be statutory compliant. Client information is stored for up to 5 years, as our service is one that can be returned to at a later date to look at progress. Where an enquiry has not progressed, we will dispose of your data after 2 years. We will then dispose of your information by deleting this from our systems and shredding any paper copies.

Your data protection rights

Under data protection law, you have rights including:

Your right of access – You have the right to ask us for copies of your personal information.

Your right to rectification – You have the right to ask us to rectify personal information you think is inaccurate. You also have the right to ask us to complete information you think is incomplete.

Your right to erasure – You have the right to ask us to erase your personal information in certain circumstances. On receipt of a request we will delete your personal information from our records and direct any third party service providers to delete from their records. Where we have a statutory function we may need to retain some records.

Your right to restriction of processing – You have the right to ask us to restrict the processing of your personal information in certain circumstances.

Your right to object to processing – You have the right to object to the processing of your personal information in certain circumstances.

Your right to data portability – You have the right to ask that we transfer the personal information you gave us to another organisation, or to you, in certain circumstances.

You are not required to pay any charge for exercising your rights. If you make a request, we have one month to respond to you.

Please contact us at hello@understandingperformance.com if you wish to make a request.

How to complain

If you have any concerns about our use of your personal information, you can make a complaint to us at hello@understandingperformance.com. We will address your concern with the utmost care and consideration, to ensure it is resolved satisfactorily and promptly.

You can also complain to the ICO if you are unhappy with how we have used your data.
