

This article appeared on the front page of the October 9, 1935 edition of "The Eagle," newspaper, which -- according to its masthead -- was "Dedicated to the best interest of Chadron Normal College."

Some may well feel that a whole generation of CSC students were traumatized by these inhumane requirements foisted upon Freshmen by their upper-classmen (and women!).

Alas, we think students have been doing weird and inane things for years, and compared to our 21st century campus environments, those 1935 antics weren't all that bad. Just silly.

Annual Hell Week Brings Number Of New Regulations

"Hell week" started with the freshman boys appearing Monday with their shirts wrongside out. The girls' dresses were also right-side-in.

Other rules that are enlivening this memorable week are:

1. The freshmen will use back doors and walk in the streets.
2. The freshmen girls are to use no cosmetics.
3. All freshman boys will refrain from combing their hair.
4. The freshmen must remain seated until all upper classmen have left the room.
5. The freshman boys are forbidden either to smoke or to shave.
6. All freshmen must bring a hen egg to all classes.
7. Green caps must be worn at all times.
8. No socks or shoe strings are to be worn by the freshman boys.
9. All freshmen must refrain from chewing gum.
10. All freshman boys will wear green ties, and the girls green hair ribbons at all times.

The climax of the week will be a dress parade on Friday at 11:30 at which roll will be called.
