

Hi [Manager Name],

I'd like to expense a subscription to Fabric Dojo. It's a learning environment to help data professionals grow skills and experience implementing data engineering and analytics engineering solutions with Microsoft Fabric.

As a member of the community, I get access to:

- more than 128 hands-on tutorials and mini-projects, and over 37 hours of explainer videos. Many of the tutorials are designed to help pass the DP-600 and DP-700 Microsoft certification exams. Topics include: Orchestration (Data Pipelines), Data Modeling (Data Warehouse, T-SQL), Data Quality, Lakehouses & PySpark, Security, Administration, Monitoring, Solution Architecture and much more.
- 36+ hours of live training sessions each year (Q&A, Fabric Architecture review, Product Updates)
- A vibrant community and the opportunity to learn from the real-world experiences of over 300 others members.

The investment is $447/year. If it helps with experimenting with just one approach that helps me or the team work better, it's already a fantastic deal. I'm pretty sure the ROI on this resource will easily be 100x.

Let me know if you're fine with this.

Thanks,
