THE CHARACTER SELECT DESCRIPTION

Queen Madison Cottonheart XX, or The Doughnut Queen, is a side character in Eat The Doughnut and the 20th queen of The Doughnut Kingdom. She loves baking and she is married to The Doughnut King.

She seems friendly at first glance but whenever there are monsters near her, she is an absolute WARRIOR. She has a dark backstory too. She sits on a throne next to The Doughnut King, and she owns an elephant named Timothy The Great.

Appearance

The Doughnut Queen has the same basic body features as a normal female Candiling. She wears a sugar tooth mask that covers her face only, and there are three "teeth" connected to the bottom. A rhombus shaped nose hole is carved into it alongside 2 eye holes. On the mask, there are 2 red circles painted on the cheeks, and a doughnut symbol painted on the center forehead. She has long brown hair with two short bangs on the top and long strips of hair that run down her shoulders. There is a gold crown pinned to her hair with royal fluff on the bottom and it is split into 4 strips with red gems on them, and they roundly connect at the center top, where there is an Elder Gemstone carved into the shape of a doughnut. Inside the crown, there is a red cushion. The Doughnut Queen wears a long, red dress with short round sleeves, and a doughnut painted on the center chest, and she wears a belt with a golden doughnut buckle over the dress. She wears long, light blue, translucent gloves and she has glass shoes that are also like that. She has a light purple cape that connects to the back of her dress and the bottom of her gloves.

Gameplay

The Doughnut Queen is the fourth character unlocked in Eat The Doughnut. Her attack is to use her "bow of love" to strike enemies from long range, and she can use a shield to block attacks horizontally only. When he swims, she has normal speed, but she is constantly slowly floating upwards because of her dress. She pushes objects at normal speed. To unlock her, you must beat the first boss Xavier.

Biography

(THIS SECTION HAS BEEN REMOVED FOR MAJOR SPOILERS)

Personality

The Doughnut Queen is a very kind and caring individual. She is very loving to The Doughnut King and is gentle and nice to everyone else. She is very nurturing to those in need and would do whatever she could to aid them. She also has a deep fondness for baking. She could be described as being as sweet as a chocolate bar! She always goes easy on everyone, except for monsters. She has a deep hate for monsters, and when she is around them, she completely swaps personalities and becomes a savage warrior. She attacks all monsters and acts more like a fighter than her normal self..

Skills/Abilities

Archery

The Doughnut Queen is a skilled archer and uses her "bow of love" to attack enemies from a long range, which is her default attack in Eat The Doughnut.

Harnessing The Doughnut Tokens

Though it is not canon, The Doughnut Queen can harness The Doughnut Tokens with The Sweet Gauntlet when you play as her, allowing her to use their special abilities. She also can collect Elder Gemstones to power and level up The Doughnut Tokens.

Aiding

The Doughnut Queen is very caring about aiding others in need. No matter the situation, she will aid them in any way she can. If she was not the queen, she would probably be a chef or a nurse.

Defense/Protection

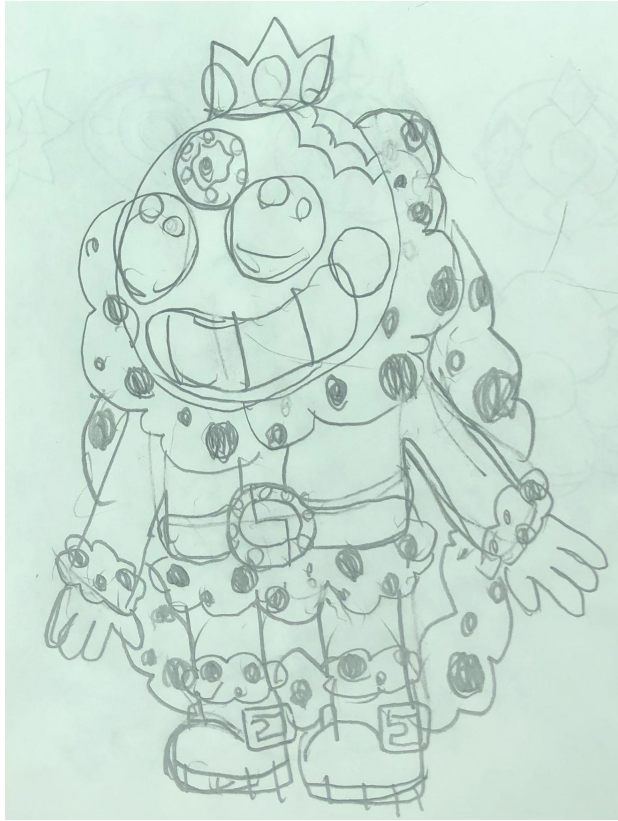

The Doughnut Queen is good at either protecting herself or others, and preventing harm. One of her default abilities in Eat The Doughnut is to use a shield to block enemy attacks.

Immunity To Sugar

Like all other Candilings, The Doughnut Queen is immune to the effects of sugar, therefore it is impossible for her to have a sugar rush while eating candy.

Relationships

The Doughnut King

The Doughnut King is the husband of The Doughnut Queen. The two are deeply in love and they would do anything for each other. They also fight together too. They usually spend their time together and are on thrones that are next to each other. Their relationship is very stable and they will stay together forever. They also like going to dances together. They love spending time together.

The Doughnut Knight

The Doughnut Knight is The Doughnut Queen's greatest and bravest knight. While she does like him, she does not have as much a relationship with him as The Doughnut King does.

The Jester

The Jester is The Doughnut Queen's royal entertainer and friend. Whenever The Doughnut King or Queen want to be entertained, The Jester entertains them with his acts and his fascinating magic tricks. She was also the one who chose him to be the royal entertainer, and like The Doughnut King, she is great friends with him.

Samurai Alpha

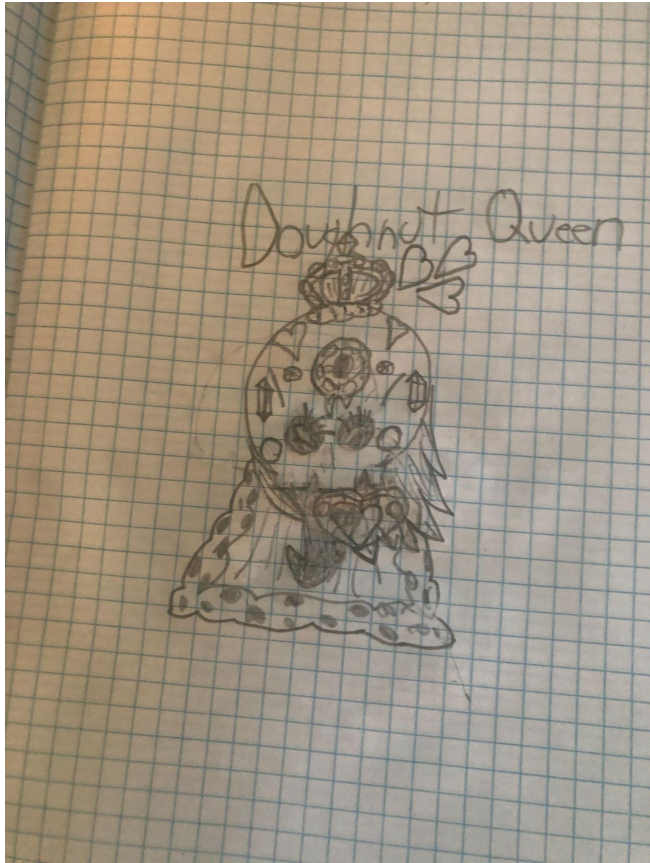

Samurai Alpha is one of The Doughnut Queen's enemies. Other than that, she does not know him that well.

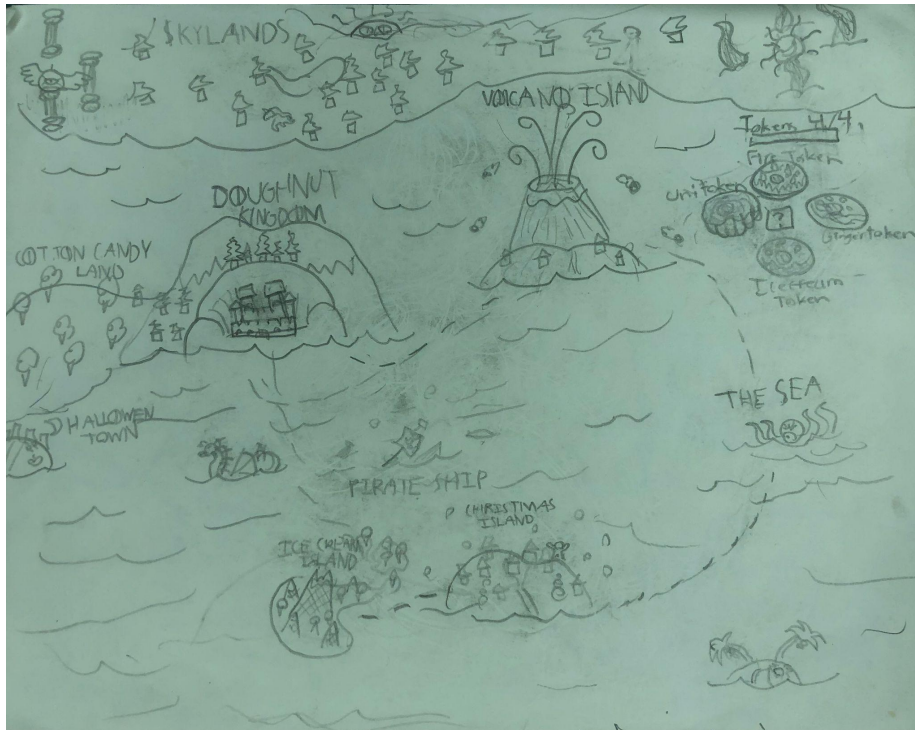

The Sugarbeard Father

The Sugarbeard Father is The Doughnut Queen's great grandfather in law and god. While they have never physically met each other, The Doughnut Queen does worship him and pray to him, while The Sugarbeard Father has watched her from The Skylands.

Trivia

- Her weapon was originally a hammer, but that was later changed
- Back when The Doughnut King and Queen were the only playable characters, The Doughnut Queen was going to feature her own gamemode, called "Queen Mode."
- However, the idea was scrapped when other playable characters were added.
- If she was a social media influencer, she would do baking tutorials
