the year '20

avoidance

- right now, i feel amess. like nothing is working out for me.
- i feel the need for a rejuvenation in all areas.
- i began this year w/ so many expectations mentally, physically, emotionally, spiritually, financially
- nothing so far has gone as planned
- i don't want to give up on myself, but i sometimes i feel like i already have
- dreaming seems easier than reality
- emotionally shutdown but still crying
- i'm dreading to encounter reality
- anger and guilt
- fear, i'm scared things won't work out; i'm afraid i can't have the life i want.
- i feel out of control; i want the stabler option
- happiness is easy, it's not always peaceful but it's easy
- maybe i'm not emotional detached but i would feel better to be; being emotional means i can't ~~escape~~ escape like others
- i overall feel like my life isn't together and i'm stuck between ~~not~~ being over it, wanting to make it happen, not wanting the work, ~~and~~ not knowing how and want stability

fulfilled

- i don't feel like i'm coming down from stress but i feel good.
- just submitted probably my best essay in a while
- had a longer break than i should have after not passing my quiz but i better
