

ROLES

At FinTeens, our mission is to teach and empower fellow high school students everywhere to develop a strong understanding of finance and start to build their own financial futures. We aim to provide many interactive and informative activities, blogs and discussions to help teens learn the importance of finance. These activities and discussions will help students gain more information about finances and also allow students to voice their own opinions and thoughts on certain financial topics and issues within our discussions. We also host events throughout our local communities to help spread information about finance. We inform our passionate followers about crucial knowledge involving money management, investments, and many more skills to help prepare them for the future.

FinTeens aims to offer a variety of virtual and in-person learning opportunities, and create a supportive community where members can discuss financial topics and share their experiences.

We are actively looking for finance enthusiasts to fill out the roles below. Anyone interested may fill more than one role.

Community Outreach Ambassadors:

Community Outreach Ambassadors build and strengthen relationships between FinTeens and the wider community. They identify partnership opportunities, promote FinTeens at community/ school events, and engage with other local schools to attract new members. They seek advisors in their school/ community and build relationships to collaborate together on initiatives. They work with other FinTeam members to host events in their community. Good communication and social skills are required.

FinNews (news bulletin/newsletter) Writers:

Our writers create engaging and informative content for FinTeens' news bulletin/ newsletter. They research and write about various finance topics, ranging from basic financial literacy to advanced financial topics. They turn complex financial concepts into accessible, engaging, and practical advice, helping our members to navigate their financial journeys with confidence. They ensure all materials meet a high standard of quality and accuracy. They work closely with other FinTeam members to refine their work, and ensure that all content aligns with our mission and voice. Good writing skills are required.

Podcast Outreach Ambassadors:

At FinTeens, our aim is to regularly conduct insightful interviews with financial experts, industry leaders, and successful young entrepreneurs. We believe in learning from the best, and these interviews provide our members with firsthand advice, inspiring stories, and a deeper understanding of the financial world.

Podcast Outreach Ambassadors reach out to potential finance professionals, educators and change makers in the community to be interviewed for FinTalks, our podcast. They work closely with the FinTalks podcast host. The Podcast outreach Ambassadors may also serve as the podcast host themselves and conduct the interviews.

Podcast Hosts:

At FinTeens, our aim is to regularly conduct insightful interviews with financial experts, industry leaders, and successful young entrepreneurs. We believe in learning from the best, and these interviews provide our members with firsthand advice, inspiring stories, and a deeper understanding of the financial world.

Podcast Hosts work closely with the Podcast Outreach Ambassador in their area. They also reach out to potential finance professionals, educators and change makers in the community to interview. They are responsible for conducting and recording the interviews for the FinTalks podcast. Good communication and speaking skills are required.

Virtual Seminar Presenters:

At FinTeens, our aim is to offer regular virtual learning opportunities, and create a supportive community where members can discuss financial topics and share their experiences.

The Seminar Presenters create and present engaging and informative content for FinTeens' virtual seminars. They research and create presentations on finance topics of their choice, ranging from basic financial literacy to advanced investment strategies. They turn complex financial concepts into accessible language, and provide engaging, and practical advice, helping our members to navigate their financial journeys with confidence. They ensure all materials meet a high standard of quality and accuracy. They work closely with other FinTeam members to refine their work, and ensure that all content aligns with our mission and voice. Good presentation and speaking skills are required.

NOTE: If you don't see a role above that interests you and you would to contribute in a different way, fill out the 'Join our FinTeam' form and let us know!