

Formative Assessment: Gathering Feedback with Google Forms

Presented by Greg Feezell

Details of 20 minute Discovery Session

Google Forms are practical tools for gathering information. Formative assessment is a powerful process for promoting learning. Used together, they can provide us with greater insight into our students' thinking. We'll look at practical examples of ways to use Forms to get feedback from our students. Quickly learn the basics and see how using Forms can improve your teaching.

Details of DEEP Dive 50 minutes, Challenges

The challenge: Using Google Forms, create a survey or assessment to use in your classroom. You'll learn the fundamentals, including how to choose the best question type for the information you're gathering, how to change themes, and how to organize your responses. For inspiration, we'll look at examples of classroom applications, including exit tickets, surveys, and thinking routines.

Learning Division

Middle School/High School/MYP

Presenter Bio

Greg loves teaching the 7th & 8th grade students at Saint Maur International School. Tweet him @g33f33

Google Certified Teacher

As we approach the event there will also be a web page with resources and more details available.