

Rare Faculty Openings for Gifted and Passionate Montessori Guides at the Infant/Toddler, Early Childhood, Lower and Upper Elementary, and Secondary (Adolescent) Community Levels.

As we expand, the NewGate School, the Lab School of the Montessori Foundation, has rare openings for Gifted and Passionate Montessori Guides at the Infant/Toddler, Early Childhood, Lower and Upper Elementary, and Secondary (Adolescent) Community Levels. The minimum requirements are a BS or BA and a Montessori teaching credential from AMS, AMI, IMC, or other MACTE accredited teacher education program. Our faculty is the next generation of the leadership of the Montessori Foundation, and we are in search of Montessori educators who want to become part of both a close-knit community and the larger work.

NewGate is a center of Montessori Leadership, Montessori teacher development, and research. We are a truly international Montessori school for 200 wonderful children from age 18 months through the 12th grade in Sarasota, Florida, one of the most livable and beautiful cities in America.

The school has two 5 acre campuses of mature trees and fields. The Ashton Road Campus is home to ur toddlers through Upper Elementary. Each class has its own garden and wide porches, and students enjoy working inside and outdoors.

NewGate is truly independent, free of most of the pressure felt by many Montessori schools to compromise the integrity of their programs. Our school community is active and supportive, we have a national board of Montessori leaders, and the school plays host to visiting Montessori educators from around the world. Learn more at www.newgate.edu

We are triple accredited by SACS/AdvancEd, the International Montessori Council, and the International Baccalaureate Organization.

Contact Tim Seldin, Head of School at timseldin@montessori.org and Associate Head of School, Robin Howe at robinhowe@montessori.org.