The Truths, Calling Mistakes Out, and My Apologies

This is a formal apology/letter to Rina/Rex (or digitapop) on discord/roblox/bluesky. The entire point of this document is to call out what I did and to speak up about what others did as well in the entire situation.

Trigger warnings include: Grooming, suicidal thoughts, mental health struggles, inappropriate jokes, and predatory behaviour.

For: Rina/Rex

Hello, Rina. I do hope you're doing better physically, emotionally, and mentally. I want to sincerely apologize for the hurt I caused you by making inappropriate jokes in a group chat when I was 15-16. I understand how harmful those words and that environment are (considering the abysmal and abhorrent shit that Tess was doing with you behind closed doors, which I know now enabled your hypersexuality), and I deeply regret and apologize for the fact that I contributed to it with my inappropriate behaviour, such as saying things like "my d*ck inflated" or "my p*y pulsates" (and anything else regarding private parts).

I thought I was being a funny cool guy, and that is certainly NOT the case! It was immature, traumatizing behaviour, and inappropriate to make in a group chat full of other individuals. I take full responsibility for my actions back then, and I'm actively working on being someone who creates safe, respectful spaces for others.

I would also like to call out myself for sending one nsfw drawing into a group chat, I was unaware that you were in. It was not okay, even if I did mean to send that as a "joke" to people who were around my age that time (15-16).

However, I want to address something very important—you've said that I engaged in sexual predatory activities in your direct messages (the old account you've since abandoned, called "digitapop" with the display name "MOVED"). I want to be clear that I have never coerced you or pressured you into sending photos/artwork or doing anything sexual between us. I am not saying this to invalidate you nor blame you as a victim, but because it is the truth and it is very important for me to be clear and honest with you. It still does NOT excuse the hurt I have caused by making those uncomfortable jokes in the group chat or sending the NSFW art on "accident".

My words here cannot undo the harm from the past, but I hope they can be a step toward clarity and accountability. I understand if you need space and time and I respect whatever boundaries you choose.

That is the apology, but I would also like to call out and acknowledge the actions of other members who were involved in causing harm.

After the friend group split due to the “Ging” drama, Shay harassed you on twitter saying horrifying and nasty things. They used my name falsely to make tweets of you saying “Dar and Green hate you btw!!”. That is completely wrong and something I do not condone, and should not have ever happened in the first place.

Two people in the group began harassing and ragebaiting your friend online, escalating a back-and-forth harassment cycle with strange “lol*con” allegations against them. Even though I wasn’t the one doing those things, it was still hurtful to you, and I’m sorry you had to experience that. They should know better because they’re all old enough to know not to go and do that. I cannot excuse their actions.

About Tess (IMPORTANT!)

I also need to address Tess’s actions, because what she did was deeply wrong and should be openly condemned. I genuinely did not know this was happening in your DMs at the time, and it is not your fault that you hadn’t told anyone or tried doing something since you were manipulated and coerced into doing disgusting sexual activities in her messages. I did not know that she was 2 months away from being 18 years old and was still pressuring you. I am beyond sorry that this happened to you, and for the fact that I was contributing to your ongoing pains in my different ways.

You showed incredible strength by putting together your document exposing Tess’s coercive and predatory behaviour. It was completely valid and truthful to create that document, and I fully support the actions taken afterward that led to her being banned from discord servers and roblox communities. Tess’s behaviour was disgusting and cannot be excused. She had it coming.

I’ve read the expose document in full, and I support your decision to share it publicly. The harm she caused you is real, and it’s important that people know the truth so she cannot harm others again.

Closing Statement

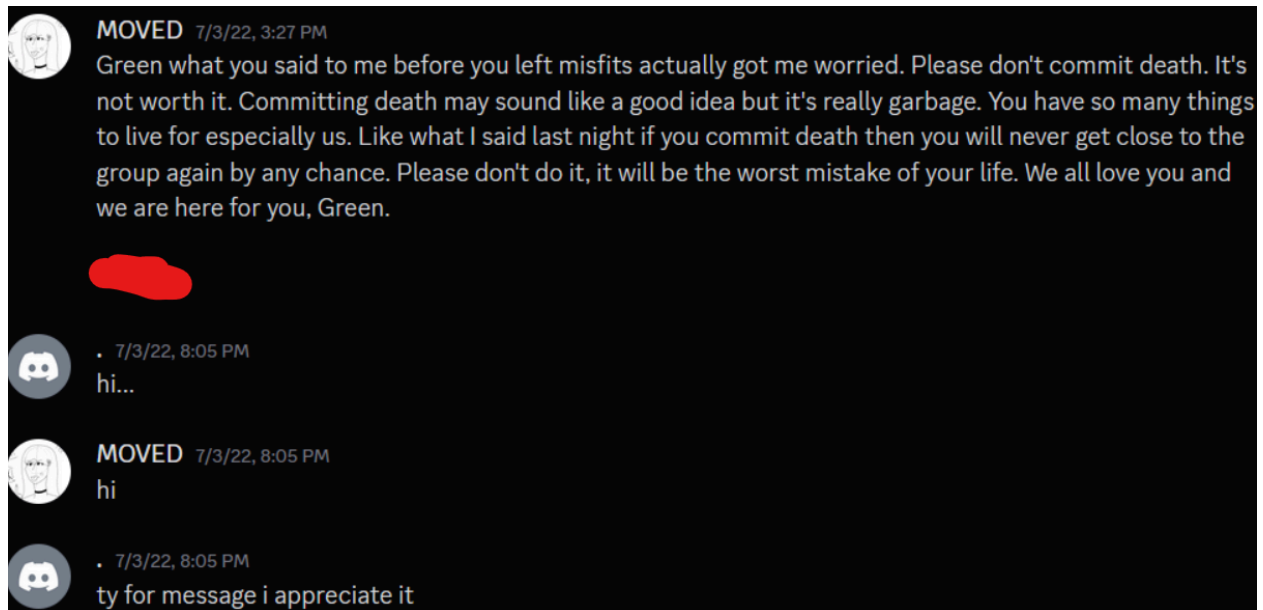

I want you to know that I am not the same person I was back then. I've put in the work to grow and understand the harm I contributed to. This isn't about asking for forgiveness—but rather making sure I acknowledge and understand the hurt + trauma that I have caused and also for taking accountability in a way that I have not.

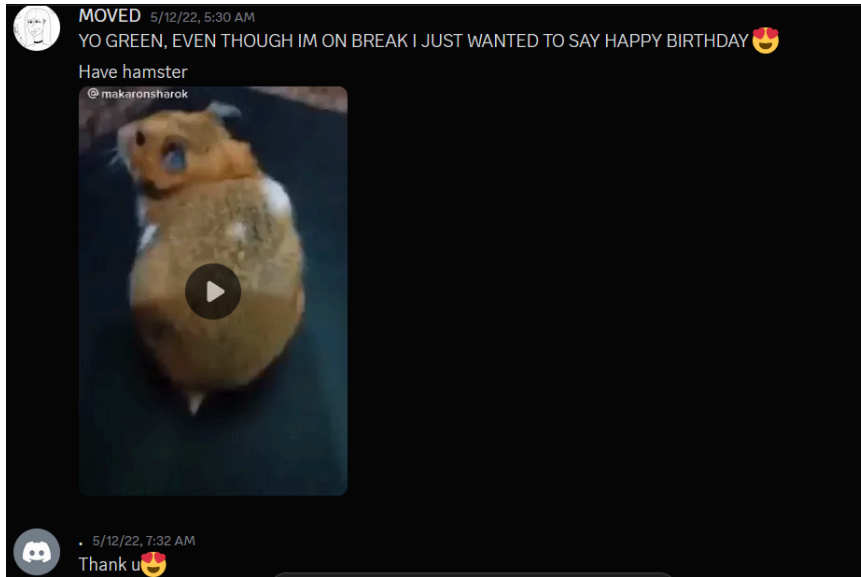

I had no idea that my actions and presence in your life held so much weight that you felt the need to isolate yourself from family, or that it impacted your health to the point of disability. Knowing that now is devastating, and I am so sorry for the role I played in that pain.

I also understand now that you saw me as a leader in our group. With that role came a responsibility to call out harmful behaviour, including Tess's actions, and I failed to do that at the time. I will not make that mistake again.

Above all, I hope you are able to find peace of mind, and heal from the traumas you've endured. Not just from me, but from everyone who hurt you. You have supported me through my darkest times and sent me kind things.

(TW SUICIDAL THOUGHTS) (context: rina being kind and looking out for me)

(context: more of rina being kind)

I am sorry that my friend Shay harassed you and spread the false narrative on twitter that I “hated” you. I also loved you as well, but I messed up and I am acknowledging it now like I should have when this first started.

You deserve to feel safe, respected, and supported. I hope nothing like this ever happens to you again.

If you’ve read this, thank you. I encourage you (especially Rina) to read tab 2 as well.

My other thoughts

I don't know if this will be the last time I respond to this situation, but I hope it is. I don't want to cause you any more harm, and I hope to respectfully step out of your life. I don't believe continuing to search for me online will help resolve this, and I want to give space for this to settle.

"You reap what you sow" is true. I failed to address my shortcomings and the ways they affected you. I worded past responses poorly and didn't prioritize your perspective.

This time, I am doing my best to word things in a way that does not victim-blame. That has never been my intention, and I understand how my (now deleted) BlueSky replies came across. I should have chosen my words more carefully so they didn't add to your hurt. I am sorry for that.

This document is not about my feelings, but I am devastated by what Tess did to you by the fact that I had no idea it was happening. Again, I do not condone her actions. If there's anything I can do to help repair even a small part of this harm, I will do it. I've said before that I want to help reduce the hurt, and I truly mean that.

If you're comfortable, you can let me know through my BlueSky replies/dms. I'm open to a real and genuine conversation about this. Not for my sake, but because it's important for you.
