Prime Lens Creative

Mission:
As a community-led media company, our mission is to empower emerging artists, BIPOC, LGBTQ+, and local artists of all ages and genders through our photography and videography services, as well as our curated art market events. Run by passionate creatives and community members, we are dedicated to providing a platform that showcases diverse artistic expressions, while fostering inclusivity, collaboration, and cultural enrichment. Our aim is to create transformative experiences that elevate artists' voices and connect them with appreciative audiences, celebrating their unique talents and contributions to the arts.

Vision:
Our vision is to be a trusted and dynamic community-led media company that excels in photography, videography, and art market curation. We envision a future where artists are at the forefront, supported by a network of creatives and community members who share their passion for artistic expression. Through our services and events, we strive to cultivate an inclusive and supportive environment where artists can thrive, connecting with diverse audiences and gaining recognition for their work. Our dedication to fostering creativity, breaking down barriers, and promoting collaboration will shape a vibrant arts community that inspires and empowers both artists and the communities we serve.
