Larimar Algae came from the bell one day

Arrays of nicknames she collects, be it Blue, be it Gemstone.

Sometimes Lari for its simplicity. Or Pebble or Breezy. She likes them all and responds to each.

What new name will she collect ? Surely, more will join the fray.

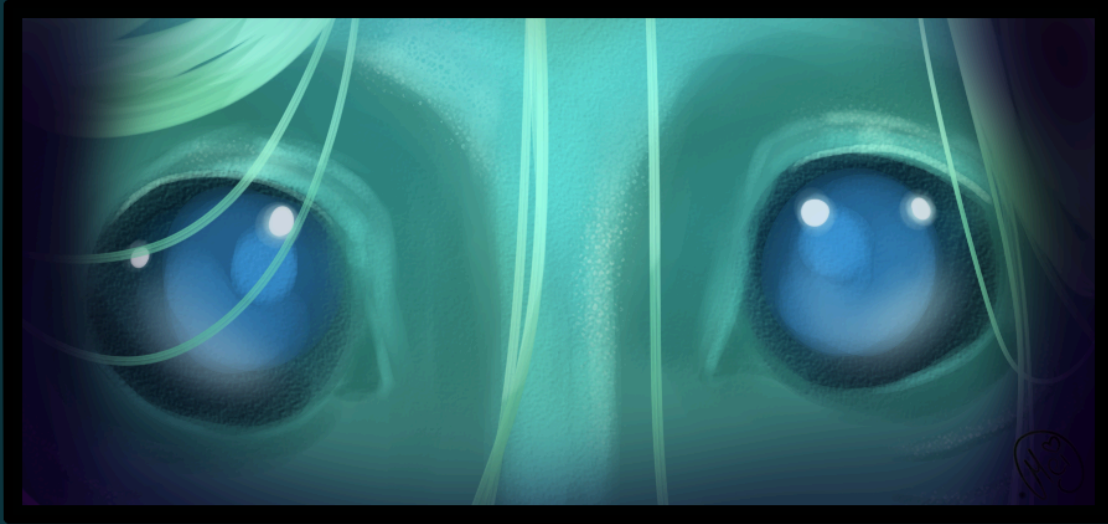

Age: Looks in her twenties

Race: Siren

Gender: Lass

Social Status: Vagabond in all but a home

Current Residence: Anywhere the water is and Ayatan.

Physiology

Build: Rather thin and fragile looking

Height: Around 2 meters long in the water (and growing), but closer to 1m50 when on her two legs.

Hair: Long and straight, as for the state it depends on the day.

Eyes: A dark abyss with two light blues to look right through you.

Distinguishing features: Fin for ears, webbed hands and a tealish blue skin that could also look more greenish depending on the light. A clear lack of facial hair be it eyebrows or eyelashes. Her body is covered in tiny scales that could look like freckles when they shine in the light.

Scars: On her left ribs, a star shaped scar.

Wears: An old sail fashioned into a makeshift skirt, torn in many places, and a top weaved in algae.

Relations

Agape - Eros - Philia - Storge - Ludus - Mania - Pragma - Philautia -
Miseo - Adiaforía - Merimna - Lupéo

Larimar - Huh, I like me. - "I find myself pretty, is that bad~ ?" - Hot Goblin

Vita - My everything. I like to think I'd turn the world upside down for you. Where are you ? I have looked many ways for you, broken my voice over your absence, cried for you. As time goes on and I've lived longer than we even knew each other I'm starting to resent you for leaving. I love you, I hate you, I miss you. - "I'm slowly forgetting your face" - Hero (Prod. By Primary) (Inst.)

Dayton Erarh (Daylight) - My best friend, I bled for you, you shall always have a place by my side, no contracts no bargains, just each other. I believe you stronger that you may reveal to me, much the same way I do not want you to worry yourself over my well being, I will keep my worries at bay and trust in your ability to find your way home anywhere, everywhere and always. I am certain there is many a thing you hide away. I will put it on account of the very nature you talked about in our very first talk, many moons ago within the tavern. If life ever splits us apart, I'll fight tooth and claws to make my way back to you, no matter if you would do the same for me. - "If it makes you happy it will make me happy too" - Bitter water

Titania (Tia | Precious) - My kin, my lover, you'll get fish from me anytime you need it and reassurances anytime I can provide. Please stop trying Daylight's drink though, you know you don't like it. We shared a kiss, we have a home, you attempted to take me to land when I refused, my feelings for you are all over the place.. I love you, there is no doubt in my heart about this, I also worry for you, it feels I am moving much faster than you do, I hope it is simply because your words are not enough yet to express yourself fully. - "Not fish. Don't eat." - Harpy Hare

Lucian (luci) - Baoaoa ! It's fun to be around you, your company is always welcome. The flower you un-earthed for me has found its home in a space I call home, I'll show you one day. Your lord scares me. I'm not sure how to feel about you burning Glory now that I know what a burn feels like. You once asked me if I thought it was possible for demons to love, I'm wondering if it is because you're unsure about your own feelings over someone or simply curiosity. You do not strike me as the overtly curious kind like I am. Please stay safe. - "Keep a little dirt under my pillow for the dirtman" - Dirtman

Aster (Windchime | Chime) - You are kind. You don't mind us being strange. You take the time to explain things we're not sure about. And you promised us food. I would have you as family if you would have me too. - "What is a child ?" - Akeboshi - Wind (Instrumental) [Naruto ED]

Kari (Moonlight) - You and I have done a few adventures by now, I know I can trust you. I'd love to lift your worries and provide my assistance whenever you need it. I'd love to learn more about you, and see the path you take. Hopefully it'll bring you what you desire. - "I want to find you a nickname of your own." - Little things | Immaterial

Trefor & Valdir - I love your scaley, he's my friend too now. Daylight called you pretty and I have to agree. Especially your glowy eye. You fought hard to heal us, and I know you hurt greatly for those who you couldn't help. You helped me work through emotions, both the ones you knew I shared with you about the loss of lives, and the ones I kept from even myself. I'll lend you my shoulder to cry on as you have done me yours. I'll lend you my arm to lean on when the weight of your responsibilities are too great for your legs to keep up. And most of all, I'll trust my health and my time in your hands when I cannot do such for myself. - "I'll learn to no longer bottle things up." - Where no one goes

Ophelia - I amused myself with your fear, and while I feel somewhat sorry, I will do it again if the opportunity presents itself...and you're away from the water - Jaunty Gumption

Halvar - I still find myself feeling bad for not being able to do anything when you were hurt against the weird hatted creatures. I vaguely remember you being around when we fought a giant squid. One of those days, I'll properly make it up to you, hopefully when you need it most.
