

After Jesus and Zinchenko, Arsenal, who is aiming for Manchester City

Arsenal are after another Manchester City player.

Global media "Fortu" said on the 1st, "Arsenal is trying to take advantage of Barcelona's financial difficulties." Arsenal have recruited Declan Rice former West Ham, Kai Havertz former Chelsea, Julian Timber former Ajax, and David Raya former Brentford, but Mikel Arteta wants more players to compete with England in Europe.

"According to Spain's Sport, Arsenal is aiming for Portuguese fullback João Cancelo, who has left for Barcelona on loan. Manchester City is ready to pay 45 million pounds about 74 billion won next summer. Barcelona also want to fully recruit Cancelo, but they have a lot of financial difficulties. As a result, Arsenal are trying to take advantage of the situation," he added.

Cancelo made his professional debut after growing up in Portugal's prestigious Benfica. Since then, he has continued his career by loaning and transferring to Valencia, loaning to Inter Milan, and transferring to Juventus. The next club was Manchester City. In 2019, Manchester City paid 65 million euros about 92.2 billion won to hold Cancelo in its arms. He invested heavily in the European big leagues, believing in their potential.

Under Pep Guardiola, Cancelo was active in both the starting lineup and rotation. However, "Unhappy" has exploded since last winter. He publicly expressed dissatisfaction inside the club, raising Guardiola's eyebrows. In the end, Cancelo left for Bayern Munich on loan, but he returned after failing to completely transfer without leaving a clear mark.

Cancelo, whose future was shaky throughout the summer transfer market, eventually joined Barcelona, which had been steadily connected. Barcelona does not include the option of recruiting during the loan as the financial situation is not affordable. Cancelo was reborn as a key resource immediately after joining Barcelona. Most of them are playing in Spain's La Liga and the UEFA Champions League UCL. Analysts say that he has recovered his performance close to his peak during the Manchester City era. 스포츠토토

Arsenal approached Cancelo like that. Arteta, who used to be a coach at Manchester City, is aiming for another Manchester City player after Gabriel Jesus and Oleksandr Zinchenko.
