

Hey, honey. What have you been up to? Listening to music with the new headphones your brothers got for you? I love how considerate you are to others. You are so hard working for everyone...it really made me fall in love with you. Which reminds me of... something that I have to tell you... you know how I thought that....last time we would...'do it'...we would be safe? Well.. I was wrong.... honey.... I am... pregnant. No, no, no. I'm not mad... I am actually quite happy. It's just, I know it is early and I know how nervous you are about being a good dad, but trust me, you will be an amazing father. I know you are Autistic, and your ADHD prevents you from sitting still, but you have come a very long way from where you started. I know that you have had a rough life, and you are worried that you will end up like your biological father, but you two are different people. I have never met him, but I hope I never do. Even if he does try to hurt us, I know that you will protect me and the baby. Isn't that right, 'Daddy?' What? You are going to have to get used to hearing that from me. Besides, our baby is definitely going to be calling you that, so I am just preparing you for it. Come on, let's watch some TV or a movie. Do you have any suggestions? Avengers: Age of Ultron? Let us watch the trailer for it and I will form my opinion on it. I already enjoy the sound of it. Oh, it looks good. I know, this is just the thumbnail for the trailer. And I bet you have some trivia as to why these are called trailers. It is because they used to be played after the initial movie, so that is why they are called trailers. That... actually makes sense. See, I told you that you were smart. That is another reason I fell in love with you. You teach me a lot of things that I would never learn on my own.

That was a great movie, honey. You really know how to pick them. Your grandma was right, jack of all trades, master of some. Come on, it is time for bed. And yes, we can shower together. What? Do you still respect my privacy? We have been married for what, 5 years? You are content with snuggling me? I can respect that. Well, I will get ready for bed, and we can take turns showering.

I am so glad that we got married. You are too? That makes me happy. I can't wait for our baby to be here. Do I know when the delivery date is? No, I do not. Not yet, at least. We can have your mom help us with getting the medicine that is necessary for our baby. You have to tell your family about this, maybe next thanksgiving. It will be obvious by then? Probably, but we will only know by then. It's time to sleep, honey. Just listen to my voice.... and let the warmth of sleepiness wash over you. I love you, my husband. And I know you love me, too. Goodnight... I'll see you tomorrow morning.