

Tenses & Aspects

Past	Presents	Future
Peter played tennis every day when he was a child . (habit in the past) Peter broke his leg yesterday.	Peter plays tennis every day . (habit in the present)	Perhaps, Peter will play tennis tomorrow . Peter is going to play tennis tomorrow . (He has already arranged it.)
Peter was playing tennis at 10:00 yesterday .	Peter is playing tennis now (at 10:00)	Peter will be playing tennis at 10:00 tomorrow .
Peter had played tennis twice by the time Tom arrived yesterday .	Peter has played tennis twice so far . Peter has broken his leg, he is at the hospital now.	Peter will have played tennis twice by the time Tom arrives tomorrow .
Peter had been playing tennis for 2 hours until Tom arrived yesterday .	Peter has been playing tennis for 2 years/ since 2022	Peter will have been playing tennis for 2 hours until Tom arrives tomorrow .