

Hey _____,

I found you guys on google maps so I checked out your website. I saw you don't have an email newsletter? Which means you have all these potential clients checking out your site and tons of customers emails in your database but you're not leveraging that to sell to them or to build a relationship with them.

Don't worry I have a solution

I'm a copywriter who specializes in email and I could put together an email newsletter for you guys.

I've seen that other companies in _____ have been using them so I thought you'd be interested. I've actually made an example of an email that'd be a good fit in a newsletter for you guys. Email me back if you want to see it.
